Every Canadian Squadron In Big Raid on Stuttgart

Vital Nazi War Plants Hit---- Soviets Smash at Supply Route

LONDON, April 16 (CP).—Giant bombers of the Royal Air Force and the Royal Canadian Air Force struck heavily at Germany's industrial war machine last night with a devastating raid on Stuttgart in which they left huge fires blazing and dense smoke billowing 14,000 feet above one of the enemy's most vital armament and engineering centres.

A Russian broadcast today revealed the bombing of Danzig and Koenigsberg on the Eastern Germany supply route to the Leningrad front. Danzig is the former free city at the head of the Polish Corridor.

The broadcast said:

"During the night of April 14 Soviet planes raided Danzig and Koenigsberg and bombed military and industrial objectives in those towns.

"As a result of the bombardment many fires broke out in Danzig and fierce explosions were observed. Particularly fierce fires and explosions broke out in the vicinity of an oil reservoir.

"In Koenigsberg big fires were observed in the vicinity of the harbor and freight station.

"All our planes returned to their bases."

LOSE TWENTY-THREE PLANES OVER STUTTGART

Twenty-three of the planes, ten of them Canadian, failed to return from the 400-mile trip across enemy-controlled territory to smash Stuttgart, Nazi aircraft, tank and submarine engine plant centre. It was the first time all squadrons of the Canadian Bomber Group, formed January 1, had been in operation together, the R.C.A.F. announced. Scores of Canadians flew in R.A.F. bombers as well.

At least three German night fighters were shot down, two of them by Canadian aircraft.

Residents of coastal England supplied an idea of the size of the bombing force when they said it took an hour and a half for the armada to pass.

Crews told of great explosions and fires caused by two-ton "block-buster" bombs and incendiaries.

Coming home the bombers flew

Board Will Open Hearing May 4

OTTAWA, April 15 (CP).—The National War Labor Board will open formal hearings May 4 in its investigation into labor relations, the cost-of-living bonus and allied questions, Mr. Justice C. P. McTague, chairman of the board, announced today at a preliminary hearing.

Kiska Island Target for Heavy Raids

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP).—United States Army bombers, escorted by swarms of fighter planes, plastered Japanese positions on Kiska Island Tuesday in an unprecedented one-day series of ten raids.

While the bombers were about their work of destruction, the fighter planes strafed beached enemy float-type aircraft.

The largest previous number of attacks in a single day was on April 2, when army bombers made eight raids. The size of that raid caused conjecture here as to whether an amphibious attempt to take Kiska might be in the making.

It might be the plan to bomb it into uselessness. It has been attacked seventy-three times since March 1. On the other hand, the bombing could serve as a means of softening up whatever resistance the Japanese might be able to offer to a landing attempt.

The enemy has worked doggedly for the last several months to develop a flight strip for fighter planes on Kiska and a complementary strip for bombers on Attu Island, nearby.

The Navy Department communique also reported briefly on the South Pacific, saying that during Wednesday bombers and fighters attacked Japanese barges and installations in Viru Harbor on New Georgia Island and started several fires. The island lies northwest of Guadalcanal.

BULLETINS

TAKE 1,000 PRISONERS

LONDON, April 16 (AP).—A Reuter's dispatch from North Africa today quoted French headquarters as saying that French troops, pushing against Field Marshal Rommel's defences south of Pont du Fahs, had captured more than 1,000 prisoners and killed nearly as many more Axis troops in the latest fighting on that front.

CAPTURE STRONGPOINT

LONDON, April 16 (AP).—Red Army troops have captured another German strongpoint in a renewal of active land fighting in the Kuban Delta of the Caucasus, the Russian noon communique, as recorded here by the Soviet radio monitor, said today.

Battle in Caucasus Is Resumed

Slay 600 Germans, Ruin Thirteen Tanks

LONDON, April 15 (CP).—Russian troops killed 600 Germans and damaged or burned thirteen tanks in a resumption of furious fighting in the Western Caucasus, north of the enemy bridgehead at Novorossisk, Moscow announced tonight.

The midnight communique recorded by the Soviet Monitor said the Germans hurled forty-six tanks and strong reinforcements against Red Army troops menacing their positions in the Kuban Valley, presumably the Anastasevskaya sector thirty miles north of Novorossisk, but declared all the Nazi counter-attacks were smashed.

Prisoners and war material also were reported seized in this sharp action.

In its communique today the German High Command had reported the Red Army was attacking with several divisions and numerous tanks in the Kuban River area, but claimed the Russians were thrown back with heavy losses.

SPORADIC FIGHTING ON LENINGRAD FRONT

Sporadic fighting was reported on the Leningrad front, on the Smolensk sector west of Moscow, near Sevsk, eighty miles south of Bryansk, and south of Balakleya on the Donets River line in the Ukraine, but there were no essential changes in position.

One German infantry company was reported wiped out in the repulse of counter-attacks on the Leningrad front.

Anti-aircraft gunners and Soviet airmen also downed six enemy planes on the approaches to Leningrad, the Russians said.

One hundred Germans were reported killed in local operations on the Smolensk front, and 120 more south of Balakleya, thirty-five miles southeast of Kharkov.

Soviet artillery shelled a railway station in the Sevsk area, setting afire an enemy armored train and destroying eighty railway cars with supplies, the communique said.

No Plans for Evacuation Yet in Sight

Eighth Army Given Greatest Credit

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP).—A co-ordinated Allied land and air assault on the Axis forces in Tunisia to climax the North African campaign was forecast today by War Secretary Henry Stimson.

Stimson warned, however, that the enemy probably has quit retreating and is prepared for a last-ditch fight.

ROMMEL MIGHT MAKE ATTEMPT

While conceding the possibility that German Marshal Erwin Rommel might attempt to extricate his cornered forces in an evacuation by sea and air over a period of weeks, the War Secretary nevertheless told a press conference:

"Thus far there are no indications of enemy plans for a major evacuation from Tunisia."

The major part of the "spectacular victory" in Tunisia was the work of the British Eighth Army, Stimson said, but he took occasion to answer what he said were reports critical of American troops.

LESS THAN FAIR TO AMERICANS

Commentators discussing the Tunisian campaign recently, he said, have been less than fair to the American troops, who did not attempt to cut off Rommel's fleeing army with a drive to the coast from Central Tunisia because they had orders not to undertake such a manoeuvre.

The secretary said the campaign plan called for the major attack to be made by the Eighth Army, while the American Second Corps, the French troops in the Ousseltia Valley and the British First Army in the north undertook "holding attacks," containing as large a portion of the Axis forces as possible, but not advancing beyond a specified line.

"All elements of these forces carried out their assignments according to plan," he related.

Young Navy Man Is "Not Guilty"

(Special to The Colonist)

NANAIMO, April 15.—"Not guilty" was the verdict brought in at 11:27 o'clock tonight by the jury before which John Henry Irving, twenty-three-year-old Nanaimo youth, answered to a charge of manslaughter arising out of the death of James Carruthers, Chase River, apparent victim of a hit-and-run driver last Christmas morning.

Irving, a member of the Royal Canadian Navy stationed at Prince Rupert, was accused of being the driver of the death car.

Evidence in the trial was contradictory and Mr. Justice Bird pointed out to the jury that the Crown must have proved its case beyond reasonable doubt before a verdict of guilty could be returned. The jury was out two hours and seven minutes.

Perry Tells Canadian Club Postwar Problems Here Now

Should peace come suddenly, followed by rapid demobilization and an end to the production of war goods, it would be necessary for British Columbia to find jobs within a year for about 100,000 persons, said Hon. H. G. T. Perry, Minister of Education and chairman of the British Columbia Postwar Rehabilitation Council, addressing the annual meeting of the Canadian Club at the Empress Hotel last night.

"Preparing and planning for the postwar period is actually a part of the war effort," Mr. Perry declared. "The men who are fighting are interested. They are asking questions about the plans that are being made to fit them into the civilian life of the country when they return. They know that men and women, the fathers and mothers they left behind, are giving thought to and making preparations for a decent and healthy country for them to live and work in, stimulates their morale and inspires their efforts with greater zeal."

That his own views are shared by thoughtful Canadians everywhere, Mr. Perry indicated by the statement that the Postwar Rehabilitation Council's recently issued two-volume report embodied suggestions from 1,000 briefs received from numerous organizations throughout the province, which briefs, supplemented by the council's own opinions, were presented to the Government, accompanied by recommendations as to practical steps to be taken.

PROBABLE SOLUTION TO EMPLOYMENT

Unable to deal extensively with a general report of such magnitude, Mr. Perry touched briefly upon these factors in a possible solution to the problem of postwar employment:

1. Land settlement. Of an estimated total of between 15,000,000 and 20,000,000 acres of agricultural land in British Columbia, 3,500,000 are occupied, and only 704,000 acres cultivated, Mr. Perry said. Rather than throw all available acreage open for haphazard settlement on a scale such as might cause a land boom, with the inevitable reaction, the council believes it advisable to encourage only those persons who have had at least two years' farming experience. More than 4,000 of such potential settlers already have expressed a desire to go on the land after the war.

2. Vocational training. Due to wartime discovery and use of new materials and the employment of new methods of operation, it will be necessary to meet in a practical way the demand for vocational training. The Federal Vocational Training Act was passed last year for this purpose, Colonel Fairey, technical training officer of the De-

Prelude to Invasion

Increased Allied bombing raids, stemming from North Africa bases, have stepped up talk of an invasion of the "soft underbelly of the Axis." Map details chief targets and shows why Bizerte is a key objective of the Allies.

Three Japanese Ships Disabled in Attempt to Land Supplies at Wewak

Convoy of Six Vessels Sighted by Planes on Reconnaissance and Bombed in Harbor

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, April 16 (Friday) (AP).—A strong Japanese attempt to supply and man their base at Wewak, on the north coast of New Guinea, now is under attack by Allied bombers.

Today's communique disclosed that an enemy convoy of six merchant vessels and three warships was sighted approaching Wewak and were immediately bombed, three of the merchantmen being hit heavily.

An 8,000-ton ship was observed sinking at the stern, another listed rapidly, leaving an oil slick, and a 5,000-ton ship was forced ashore and beached.

Wewak is some 450 miles northwest of the Allied base of Port Moresby. Indications have accumulated recently that the Japanese, after losing heavily in attempts to supply their Huon Gulf bases of Lae and Salamaua directly by ship, have turned to Wewak, unloading the supplies there for overland transportation by way of Madang.

COMMUNIQUE TELLS OF RECONNAISSANCE

"An enemy convoy of six merchant vessels and three warships was sighted by our reconnaissance approaching Wewak," said today's communique.

"Our heavy bombers immediately moved to the attack and at dusk struck in the approaches to the harbor.

"In a series of mast-height attacks, three of the vessels were heavily hit.

"An 8,000-ton cargo ship was observed rapidly listing with a heavy oil slick on the water; another 8,000-ton vessel was seen to be slowly sinking by the stern and the third vessel of 5,000 tons was forced to shore and beached. We are continuing the attack."

Other Allied heavy bombers attacked the airdrome at Rabaul, New Britain, some 500 miles northeast of Port Moresby. A spokesman for General Douglas MacArthur said yesterday that the enemy has a concentration of 250,000 tons of shipping in the region.

The Rabaul raiders caused large explosions and fires on the Lakunai airdrome.

General Douglas MacArthur's spokesman disclosed today that the United States air and ground forces

High Honor for Victoria Flyer

OTTAWA, April 15 (CP).—Air Force Headquarters tonight announced award of three Distinguished Flying Crosses and one Distinguished Flying Medal to members of the R.C.A.F. serving overseas.

Winners of the D.F.C. were Flt. Lieut. Malcolm G. Brown, of Montreal; F.O. Laurie Evan Philpotts, of Saint John, N.B., and F.O. Alfred Roy Haines, of 1238 Vista Heights, Victoria.

Flt. Sgt. Robert Burns Charters, of Brampton, Ont., received the D.F.M. His father, C. V. Charters, is managing director and secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association.

F.O. Haines' citation said: "In December, 1942, this officer was the navigator of an aircraft which attacked a target in the Ruhr. In hazardous circumstances he displayed courage, fortitude and resource of a high order."

Warned About Naval Threat By MacArthur

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, AUSTRALIA, April 15 (AP).—A spokesman for Gen. Douglas MacArthur, issuing the third such warning in three days, declared today that a big Japanese fleet is massed in the area of Truk, the main enemy naval base outside the Japanese homeland, and stands ready "within less than three days' sailing distance of New Guinea."

Carrying forward the series of alarms concerning Japanese intentions, the spokesman added:

"As regards merchant shipping, a Japanese concentration of approximately 250,000 tons has been maintained in or around Rabaul alone for the past several months.

"Other Japanese bases on the arc—Palau, Manila, Soerabaja—are within easy concentration range of the 2,500-mile battle line which envelops the upper half of Australia.

"Constant convoys operating beyond the range of our air forces are being pushed forward to reinforce the enemy."

The spokesman's warning followed a statement by Prime Minister John Curtin that the Allies, naval and land forces "will be subjected to a test beyond their resources" if the air power is not sufficient to maintain superiority over the Japanese.

CUT BUSINESS HOURS

VANCOUVER, April 15 (CP).—Vancouver merchants today announced plans to reduce hours of business, some intending to close all day Wednesday and others to cut down hours of sale Wednesday and Saturday. Woodward Stores Ltd., and David Spencer, Ltd., will apply for permission to close all day Wednesday. Hudson's Bay Company has been given approval of an earlier Wednesday and Saturday closing.

Avert Strike in Aluminum Plant

ARVIDA, Que., April 15 (CP).—A threatened strike in the vital plant here of the Aluminum Company of Canada, Limited, was averted tonight when the International Union of Aluminum Workers (A.F. of L.) acceded to the request of a Federal mediator to defer its strike ultimatum pending further negotiation.

The union announcement that it had agreed to the suggestion of the conciliator, Raoul Trepanier, of Montreal, came an hour after the 5 p.m. strike deadline that the union had set if the company did not agree to a vote to determine which of two unions should act as sole bargaining agency for the plant's 11,000 workers.

British and French Troops Seize Two Valuable Stretches In Hand-to-Hand Battling

Airmen Knock Down Twenty-One Axis Planes in North Africa

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, April 15 (AP).—British and French troops in hand-to-hand fighting have seized two valuable stretches of high ground and 600 more prisoners along the Axis Tunisian siege line to boost the Allied toll of enemy captives to more than 30,000 in less than four weeks, the High Command announced today.

Allied airmen also punched additional holes in the enemy's sky armor yesterday, destroying twenty-one planes at a cost of eight Allied aircraft, and raining tons of explosives on the still strong Tunisian-Sicilian network of fields.

This powerful sky offensive has destroyed 459 planes in combat since the Mareth offensive March 20, compared with 152 Allied aircraft missing. Officers also estimate that 150 or more German and Italian planes have been destroyed aground during a systematic pounding of Axis air terminals.

British First Army infantry stormed and captured Djebel Ang, a mountaintop eight miles north of Medjez-El-Bab and thirty miles west of Tunis yesterday, routing strongly-entrenched German and Austrian Alpine troops, of whom 200 surrendered.

FRENCH MOROCCANS SEIZE HILL LINE

On the southwestern rim of the Axis lines French Moroccan goumiers seized Djebel Sefsouf, a hill line seven miles above the village of Kararhoun. A French communique said 400 enemy troops, mostly Italians, were captured, while a German infantry company which chose to fight it out was annihilated.

The captured 1,600-foot Sefsouf Peak is on the western flank of the siege line running thirty-five miles west of Enfidaville on the coast.

Field dispatches said the Eighth Army, which advanced 200 miles from Gabes to the Enfidaville sector, at present was held up by heavy enemy artillery entrenched in the mountains fifty miles below Tunis.

While Sir Bernard L. Montgomery prepared his next blow on land, the Allied air arm continued its heavy assaults against Axis Tunisian airdromes, of which fifteen still exist, and also struck at the enemy's rear bases in Sardinia.

Four-engined bombers of the A.A.A.F. of the "strategic air force" again led the onslaught, bombing El Mas and Monferrato in Sardinia and El Aouina near Tunis.

El Mas airdrome was blasted with fragmentation bombs, and fires set amid hangars. Bombs also were

THE TIMES, London

LONDON, April 15.—The Eighth Army, pursuing its successful advance, has made contact with Rommel's troops again. They are on a powerfully-defended ridge north of Enfidaville. Here, says The Times' military correspondent, the enemy has good positions wherefrom to defend both Tunis and Bizerte.

It is not to be expected that the Eighth Army will try to carry the enemy defences in its stride, as it may have to pause for preparation, which will take some time.

Vichy commentators described the area as a natural fortress but, says the correspondent, natural fortresses do not long delay the Eighth Army unless they have been greatly strengthened by artifices. It is camouflaged concrete casements, hidden rock shelters and minefields which make a natural fortress formidable.

The First Army now is exchanging its lighter tanks for Anglo-American designed Shermans. For these war machines highly flimsy Italian tanks are no match.

While not impossible, reports from Switzerland that Italian troops are already leaving North Africa are not confirmed. Probably these troops are only auxiliary and non-combatant units.

On the Oued Zarga front recently a British tank shot down a Messerschmitt, the first on record to fall to tank guns.

The Royal Air Force has again battered the Italian naval base at Spezia. Italian defences were weak and great fires were left burning. This was the Royal Air Force's forty-third raid on Italy and its third on Spezia, which has important submarine building yards.

In a further review of the Winter campaign on the Russian front, The Times editorially says it represents the greatest series of victories over a powerfully armed foe ever won by any army. The German front has been beaten back 200 miles, and, though the Nazis have ruined and wrecked many beautiful cities which were the joy and pride of the Bolsheviks' social system, they have lost tremendously in men and resources.

The Times explains that only for the extraordinary mild Winter and sudden thaw, which broke the Soviet offensive, defeat of the entire German invasion was highly probable

Plan Addition To Air Hospital At Patricia Bay

OTTAWA, April 15 (CP).—Air Minister Power advised Hon. H. A. Bruce (Prog. Con., Toronto-Parkdale) in a reply tabled in the House of Commons that construction of a forty-five-bed addition to the present sixty-five-bed hospital at the Patricia Bay, B.C., R.C.A.F. Station, is to start shortly.

The addition will cost about $60,000. Medical, surgical and laboratory equipment, including an initial issue of drugs cost $13,350, and X-ray equipment when finally delivered will cost $6,500.

In another reply tabled for Dr. Bruce by the army, it was said that a normal school at Victoria recently was converted into a military hospital at a cost of $86,401, providing 250 beds. X-ray equipment and laboratories are being provided at a cost of $8,856.

Russian Rails Now Under Military Law

LONDON, April 16 (Friday) (CP).—The Moscow radio said today that in Russia, "a small undisciplined minority is disorganizing the railway transport so vital in wartime," and that as a result the Supreme Soviet has ordered all railways to operate under military law.

The broadcast, heard by the Soviet Monitor, said that the order mobilizes all railway workers for the duration of the war and makes them responsible for "all misdeeds."

Delinquents will be judged by military tribunals, Moscow said.

The decree setting up the new regulations, the broadcast added, was signed by President Kalinin, and said:

"We cannot allow this undisciplined minority to interrupt the continuous flow of supplies to the front and to hinder conscientious workers from fulfilling their duty to their country."

Offenders, it was announced, will be dismissed from their jobs and sent to the front to serve in "discipline companies unless they deserve more serious punishment according to a decision of the military railway tribunal."

British Now Model For Italian Troops

BERNE, April 15 (AP).—The British Army now is a model for Italian troops who once looked upon German military discipline and ability as unsurpassed, a Rome dispatch to The Tribune de Geneve said today in describing reorganization of the Italian Army.

"The courage, discipline and spirit of sacrifice of the British troops in Africa are above all praise," said the dispatch.

The dispatch quoted the Italians as saying that recognition of the qualities of the foe "is necessary because under-estimation already has proved too costly."

Calls Amendment "Shocking"

OTTAWA, April 15 (CP).—An amendment to the Income Tax Act to strengthen the power of the Treasury Board to prevent avoidance of taxation by setting up companies outside Canada or by other transactions brought a storm of opposition from Hon. R. B. Hanson (Progressive, York-Sunbury) in the House of Commons tonight.

"Shocking," said Mr. Hanson, when this amendment was proposed by Finance Minister Ilsley. He attacked it because it put the power to impose taxation in the hands of the Treasury Board—"a non-representative body."

M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, also protested, not because it aimed to prevent evasion of taxation, he said, but because it was in effect allowing the Crown to impose taxation without approval of Parliament, a subject of long struggle in generations past.

Mr. Ilsley reminded the House that the power had been in the Income Tax Act in one form or another since 1937 and it was his intention only to strengthen it in the light of failures effectively to administer it in some cases.

The minister said there had been cases of attempted evasion of taxation by certain devious transactions in the past and more might be expected under present prosperity and heavy taxation.

He told of one case without giving details in which a company had sev-

Too Many War Stickers on Windshields

Vancouver Traffic Official Worried

VANCOUVER, April 15 (CP).—Windshields of Vancouver automobiles have become so cluttered with wartime stickers that Traffic Superintendent Wilfred Lemon has been obliged to take up with Inspector George Hood, of the Provincial Police Motor Vehicle Branch, the feasibility of affixing the insignias to some other part of a car.

Superintendent Lemon told the official traffic commission today that the number of stickers on the windshield of the average auto has become a "serious matter," creating a "blind spot" in the drivers' vision.

He reported Inspector Hood has the matter under advisement, but that he knows of no solution unless it is to affix the adhesives to the side windows.

R. S. Arnot, Vancouver Traffic and Safety Council representative, said some autos are plastered with such stickers as motor vehicle testing, gasoline ration, club, taxi, military and bridge pass.

Renews Plea For Greater Air Strength

WASHINGTON, April 15 (CP).—Dr. H. V. Evatt, Australia Minister of External Affairs, now in Washington on an official mission, today renewed his plea for more and prompt air help in an address prepared for broadcast. He gave a hint, too, of the actual size of the Southwest Pacific air force that has scored smashing victories against tremendous odds.

"In the magnificent battle of the Bismarck Sea the Japanese tried in vain to screen their ships with 150 Zero fighters," Dr. Evatt said. "A fighter screen, mind you, of greater numerical strength than our entire bomber, fighter, and reconnaissance force assembled to smash the convoy.

"The heaviest attack yet made on Rabaul by the S.W.P.A. has consisted of thirty-seven aircraft. The greatest weight of bombs we have dropped in any one raid has been eighty tons—not very much compared with the 1,000 tons dropped with such regularity on German cities night after night."

Death Calls Joseph Parkin

NANAIMO, April 15.—A member of a well-known pioneer family, Joseph Parkin, seventy-three, died in Nanaimo Hospital today. He was born here, his mother having been a passenger on the famous Princess Royal which arrived with a hardy lot of pioneers from England in 1854. She was six-year-old Elizabeth Malpass. She married the late William Parkin, who previously had been a prospector in the Cariboo country but at the time of his marriage was working in one of the local mines. In an explosion in the mine Mr. Parkin lost his eyesight. His former prospecting partner of the Cariboo, on learning of the accident, sent him a pair of rarely intelligent spaniels and they for many years led their new master about the town. Mr. and Mrs. Parkin had born to them seventeen children, ten boys and seven girls. They started a grocery store in a frame building on Commercial Street now occupied by a brick structure known as the Parkin Block. These were before the days of even wagon delivery and Mr. Parkin, led by one of his faithful dogs delivered groceries to customers in a basket carried on his arm. His deliveries extended as far north as Brechin. Two miles away his dog would lead him to the beach at Brechin, where, across a stretch of fifty yards of water, miners were working. The dog would give the "barking" signal, of grocery deliveries, and the miners rowed across for their supplies.

Joseph, who died today, was for forty years an honorary member of the Nanaimo Fire Department, of which for many years, an elder brother, the late John Parkin, was chief. For the past forty-three years Joseph was employed at the powerhouse of the Nanaimo Light Company, now owned by the Nanaimo-Duncan Utilities.

Besides his wife, residing at 115 Milton Street, he is survived by one son, William, of Halifax; two daughters, Mrs. Sydney Storey and Mrs. Walter Scott, Nanaimo; five brothers, Robert and Isaac, of Courtenay; William, Los Angeles; Edwin, Vancouver, and Matthew, Nanaimo; also two sisters, Mrs. J. Matt, of Oakland, Calif., and Mrs. John Grieve, of Courtenay. The funeral will be held at 2:30 p.m. on Saturday from the Jenkins' Chapel.

Employees of Entire Railway System Go "All Out" on Loan

MONTREAL, April 15.—With their objective tentatively set at $5,300,000 and with a healthy determination to see their subscription total go over the toy, Canadian Pacific employees across the entire system are going "all out" to back up Canada's Fourth Victory Loan drive and to maintain the high standard that marked their participation in the Dominion's first three campaigns.

In response to an appeal by D. C. Coleman, president of the company, calling for the utmost co-operation on the part of Canadian Pacific personnel for what he termed the "noblest cause in history," employees from Halifax to Victoria have begun revising their budgets and preparing to make the necessary sacrifices to help the Dominion reach its $1,000,000,000 goal and to support their 16,000 colleagues now serving with the active armed forces.

It was the fourth time Canadian Pacific employees were exhorted as a body by their senior official to support the Government in its drive for Victory Bonds. The ultimate objective of $5,300,000 to which employees have hitched their hopes, represents an increase of nearly $1,000,000 over the objective in the last Victory Loan campaign. During the first and second campaigns employees pledged $2,094,050 and $3,654,100 respectively.

Directed by a general committee under the chairmanship of W. M. Neal, vice-president of the company, and supported by sub-committees in every city, town and village on the company's lines across Canada, the drive will carry its message to the company's 73,000 employees from coast to coast.

VICE-PRESIDENTS TAKE CHARGE

H. J. Humphrey, vice-president, Eastern lines, and W. A. Mather, vice-president of the company's lines west of Fort William, have been appointed campaign chairmen for their respective territories.

General committee members are F. Bramley, secretary, Montreal; A. Lyle, assistant to the vice-president, Montreal; J. B. Ward, general chairman, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Montreal; C. E. Stockdill, assistant to the vice-president, Winnipeg, and S. M. Gossage, assistant to the vice-president, Toronto.

As in the case of the previous three campaigns, arrangements have been made so that every employee will be personally solicited by a competent member of the staff. Payments may be effected through periodical payroll deductions as in the past campaigns.

The present drive will be conducted in full co-operation with the National War Finance Committee of each district and subscriptions made through the Canadian Pacific Railway will be credited to the objective of localities concerned.

Profiting by its experience during the first three campaigns, the present drive is being launched on a highly-organized basis and on an energetic scale that will continue with an increasing momentum until the objective has been reached or surpassed.

Every officer and employee, regardless of position, will be affected by the campaign, which promises to be the most vigorous and enthusiastic of any in the past.

Incentive and enthusiasm are found not only in a broadly-based appreciation of the world situation, but more intimately in the employees' 16,000 and more colleagues now "backing the attack" in the armed services. This has been a significant factor in previous campaigns when Canadian Pacific personnel subscribed willingly and on a broad scale, just as they have been lending their support to numerous wartime causes, donating their blood and making munitions.

ALREADY CONTRIBUTED SUM OF $43,842,500

The Canadian Pacific Railway Company and its officers and employees have already contributed the impressive sum of $43,8442,500 to the cause of victory during the first three Victory Loan campaigns. Of the figure, $10,203,500 was donated by officers and employees themselves. Nor has this affected their desire to continue subscribing for War Savings Certificates, some $113,000 a month being voluntarily deducted from their pay cheques.

In his message, a copy of which has been forwarded to every officer and employee throughout the system, President D. C. Coleman stressed the urgency of putting the new loan over the top and making the necessary economic sacrifices to ensure a steady flow of arms and supplies to the fighting forces.

"Canada entered this war on equal terms with her Allies and has played an effective part in the struggle," Mr. Coleman said. "That has been due to the willingness of the Canadian people to make sacrifices for the noblest cause in history. Our youths have already distinguished themselves in battle and merely ask an opportunity to play a better part.

"To the rest of us the task has been committed to see that the forces of our nation and its Allies are provided with the most modern and effective weapons, and that they and the civilian population of British and other Allied nations are furnished with the supplies which they may need. To that end it is necessary that the Government of our country be furnished with all the money it requires and despite necessarily heavy taxation Canada asks her citizens to make voluntary contributions in the form of subscriptions to war loans."

Mr. Coleman expressed his confident hope that a very large percentage of the population would regard participation in war loans as a normal item in each personal budget in view of the fact that the bonds are issued in denominations that will enable every citizen to subscribe and that easy terms of payment have been arranged. He stressed the importance of employees maintaining their subscription to War Savings Certificates.

"The company has undertaken to see that every employee is given an opportunity to do his duty in this respect," Mr. Coleman said, "and the organization set up under the chairmanship of Mr. W. M. Neal, vice-president of the company, will co-operate closely with the National War Finance Committee in each district, so that each citizen will be recorded as part of the subscription obtained in his own community.

"I appeal to every officer and employee to share in this national undertaking and to aid us to demonstrate, once again, that no group of Canadian citizens can be more patriotic than the staff of the Canadian Pacific."

partment of Education, is representing British Columbia on the National Advisory Council. Mr. Perry estimated that in ratio to the number of enlistments, more than 18,000 British Columbians desire some form of training for occupational employment.

3. Public Works — Emphasizing the folly of indiscriminate and often useless "public works" in the form of projects of a "pump primer" type, Mr. Perry stressed the necessity of a co-ordinated plan of development in which co-operation between municipalities, the provinces and the Dominion would be feasible.

4. New Industries—Physics. Mr. Perry explained, are a many-phased development of new materials from timber, minerals and agricultural products, thus opening up opportunities for industrial research leading to the ultimate establishment of new enterprises capable of absorbing large numbers of employees.

NEED OF FINANCE FOR ENTERPRISE

5. Finance—Including small business, even down to the service station operator, "if the Utilities Commission lets him operate," there will be need of funds beyond the limitations of private enterprise, said Mr. Perry, and both the Dominion and Provincial Governments may be obliged to evolve a workable system to assist any business, large or small, whose project is sound and personnel is sound and personnel experienced.

6. Agriculture—Mr. Perry touched upon many aspects of the farm problem as a whole, particularly in his advocacy of parity prices, which he held were necessary in order to assure the farmer a sound basis on which to operate, free of fear of circumstances and conditions he cannot possibly hope to control without the intelligent support of organized government.

7. Social Services and Legislation —This subject in its entirety was so vast that the speaker chose to defer a discussion of the multitudinous factors, except to say that no plan of rehabilitation could be complete without adequate provision for the health and general well being of the people as a whole.

The speaker also dealt briefly with the ultimate restoration of export trade, reforestation, the lumber, mining and other industries, closing with an expression of optimism for the future of British Columbia, subject only to wise and careful planning now for the days that lie ahead.

Several members of the Canadian Club rose to express personal views, but more particularly to thank Mr. Perry for the excellence of his address.

Bracken to Speak At Canadian Club Luncheon, Victoria

Hon. John Bracken, Dominion leader of the Progressive Conservative Party, will address the Victoria Canadian Club luncheon next Monday week, April 26, it was announced last night at the club's annual meeting in the Empress Hotel.

Arrangements for Mr. Bracken's reception are being made by a club committee and a further announcement will be issued shortly.

"Scare Broadcast" Error of Judgment

TORONTO, April 15 (CP).—In a statement commenting on his investigation of a "scare broadcast" of a Japanese landing in Canada heard Monday night over radio station CFRB in Toronto, Dr. James S. Thomson, general manager of the C.B.C., said presentation of the programme was an "error in judgment."

"It should be a warning to advertising agencies and radio operators that use of 'scare' methods to arouse public interest should be used with greatest care," he said.

PATIENT CHOKED

EDMONTON, April 15 (CP).—Provincial Chief Coroner E. A. Braithwaite and Royal Canadian Mounted Police pressed an investigation tonight into the killing of a female patient of the Oliver Mental Institute, nine miles northeast of here, last night. Reports said the victim was choked to death with a towel by another female inmate before guards could intervene. Provincial authorities refused to divulge further details.

Two Peers to Be In Party Coming To Visit Canada

LONDON, April 15 (CP).—At least two peers will be included in a party of parliamentarians which will visit Canada shortly, it was learned today.

The members, it is believed, may join forces with nine members of Parliament from Australia and New [illegible] shortly, and the two parties journey to Canada together.

Announcement was made Tuesday that eight members of the United Kingdom Branch of the Empire Parliamentary Association will go to Canada late in May or early in June as guests for three weeks of the Canadian branch of the association.

There are signs Von Manstein is contemplating a new offensive towards Rostov and the Caucasus but before this happens there may be changes on fronts far removed from Russia.

Political trouble is brewing in Egypt, says the diplomatic correspondent, of The Times, as the outcome of charges against Nahas Pasha and his Cabinet—apparently graft. Charges are made by a former member of the Wafd party, who is well-known as a financial expert and former Finance Minister.

Nahas Pasha says he is ready to face a full Senate and Chamber investigation, and refute all allegations.

The Wafdist majority in both Houses appears to have accepted Nahas Pasha's denials.

Finds "Ancestor" Never Did Marry

LONDON, April 15 (CP).—Sir Walter Monckton, affable and able member of Britain's legal profession, tells a good yarn on himself that has his colleagues chuckling.

During a visit to Canada and the United States last year, Sir Walter accepted an invitation to visit Moncton, N.B., and was tendered the freedom of the city. In bestowing the honor, the mayor recalled Sir Walter's "distinguished ancestor," Gen. Robert Monckton, who won renown for his soldierly qualities and eventually became Governor of New York.

Sir Walter's son then did a little research into the life of this newly-discovered ancestor and reported that the general although a warrior, never found time to get married.

So, Sir Walter says, he is not particularly anxious to claim the general.

so low some of them gunned ground targets. One Stirling shot up four supply trains and another gunned two trains and a freight yard. One low-flying Stirling knocked the top off an electric pylon near a power plant and ignited some incendiaries it was carrying home. The crew jettisoned the incendiaries, however, and the plane reached base safely.

In daylight today R.A.F. Ventura bombers escorted by fighters attacked shipping and docks at Cherbourg in France, planted sticks of bombs on Le Havre airfield and scored direct hits on German defence works under construction west of Fecamp.

CANADIANS TELL OF GREAT EXPLOSIONS

Canadian crews told interrogation officers of great explosions and fires caused by two-ton bombs and showers of incendiaries in the Stuttgart raid.

P.O. F. G. Culbert, of Winnipeg, said the glow was so brilliant "we could see a beautiful rosy halo for seventy miles and more."

Bomb-aimer in a Halifax unit led by Wing Commander Tiny Ferris, of Edmonton, Sgt. Lloyd Kerr, of Truro, N.S., said: "All our bombs fell in the centre of a tremendous fire and when they exploded the whole thing seemed to bloom outwards. It was an amazing sight."

Sgt. Chester Dixon, of Maple Creek, Sask., a Halifax pilot, said: "As we pulled away smoke was rising to 14,000 feet."

Sgt. Pilot David Crockatt, of Vancouver, described the target as a "general inferno," and added: "If we had been a few feet farther down we could have roasted hot dogs—if we had any."

A Junkers-88 attacked a Halifax carrying Sgt. Cecil Heming, of Pelly, Sask., and Heming fired several bursts of machine-gun fire.

"We dived and the fighter broke away," he said.

Flt. Sgt. Bob Currie, of Red Deer, Alta., summed up the reactions of his R.A.F. Wellington unit with this account:

"We were early on the scene and, next to the big Essen raid a few weeks ago, it was the best concentration of fires I have ever seen. The defences were not very hot. We saw only two cones of searchlights, each of about twenty or thirty lights, and they did not bother us. We were able to make a long bombing run."

NOT SO EASY FOR LATE ARRIVALS

For late arrivals it was not so easy. Some aircraft were pierced by flak, including one in which Flt. Sgt. Jack Marriott, of Ottawa, was navigator.

"We just stooged right through red-hot chunks of flak, but I didn't know the ship was hit until after we landed," he said.

The German air force, meanwhile, struck back at Britain with night attacks on East Anglia and towns in the Thames Estuary, causing a brief alert in London—its first night alert since March 8. Some damage and casualties were caused by the raiders, though no bombs fell in the capital.

Three of the German planes were reported destroyed over Britain and another over its base in France.

Last night's raid—the first on Stuttgart since the night of March 11—followed by twenty-four hours a powerful attack on the Italian naval base of Spezia. Stuttgart is the home of important war plants, including factories for the manufacture of plane, tank and submarine motors and parts.

Ships Disabled

have suffered a total of 4,319 casualties—dead, missing in action or wounded—in the New Guinea campaign through March 31.

Of this figure, 2,175 were listed as killed or missing in action "under conditions presuming death."

EVIDENTLY PART OF INCREASED OFFENSIVE

The convoy landing attempt at Wewak evidently is part of a general increase of Japanese offensive plans which within the last few days included great daylight air raids on Port Moresby and Milne Bay in New Guinea.

Some 325 miles south of Wewak at Lae, direct hits were scored among grounded aircraft at the airdrome.

In the sector northwest of Australia, a medium bomber attacked Japanese installations at Taberfane on Trangan Island of the Aroe group. Coastal shipping was attacked off Jamdena Island in the Tanimbar group. The village of Ossu on Timor was bombed and strafed.

North of New Britain, a four-motored Allied bomber on reconnaissance duty over Kavieng, New Ireland, was engaged by ten Japanese fighters. The Allied plane shot three of the enemy out of action and then safely reached a covering of clouds.

Begin Move To Secure Farm Help

More Women Must Enter Agriculture

Saanich farmers were given the lead toward solving their labor problems last night at Royal Oak by William McGillivray, director of the Dominion-Provincial Emergency Farm Labor Committee, who said the responsibility of the farmers was to ascertain their labor requirements, the amount of labor available in each locality, and adequate accommodation for young workers in hostels.

At Mr. McGillivray's direction a local committee was formed at a representative meeting in the Royal Oak Women's Institute Hall to carry on the work outlined. Members appointed were Reeve E. C. Warren, H. C. Oldfield, Sydney Pickles, Charles H. Williams, and John Gough. Saanich municipal school inspector Mr. Oldfield was chairman at the meeting.

To take the place of the eighty men who have left every 100 farms in British Columbia, Mr. McGillivray told the meeting, women must be taken into agriculture to a far greater extent than at present. Heavy demands will be made by essential industries, he said, and the supply of conscientious objectors is limited.

GREATER DEMAND FOR FOOD PRODUCTS

This year there will be a greater demand for food products than ever before, he said, from overseas, from European countries, and in Canada which must be produced with a minimum of help.

"Victoria will be the largest source of labor on Vancouver Island," he said, "and school labor could be used to good advantage as in Ontario. We hope to complete arrangements shortly with a national organization to take charge of hostels for school students working on the farms, and expect medical precautions will be taken."

Hon. K. C. MacDonald, Minister of Agriculture, is investigating such matters as increased gasoline rations, income tax, and the system of dependents' allowances and old-age pensions which does not permit additional income without allowances being decreased, he said.

Mr. McGillivray outlined negotiations made by Dr. MacDonald with Ottawa toward establishing a land army and subsequent authorization of his plan. Costs are to be borne by Dominion and Provincial Governments, he said, and although complete details of the plan have not yet been received from Ottawa, the organization work is well advanced.

His committee is arranging to establish a sub-office in Victoria, preferably at the local Employment and Selective Service Office, Mr. McGillivray said, and will appoint an area supervisor for Vancouver Island. He also outlined a number of the financial obligations which his committee will assume.

SELECTIVE SERVICE WILL ASSIST

When the farmers are in need of help then the National Selective Service will endeavor to find workers, according to Col. J. E. Wood, agricultural representative in British Columbia for the National Selective Service, who accompanied Mr. McGillivray.

He advised the farmers to secure any help they could get. In order to employ sons in the armed services, he said, the men themselves must make application to their commanding officers for Spring leave. Other employers must apply themselves to the commanding officers.

Servicemen on week-end leave also may be employed, he said. When told of instances here whereby servicemen's wages were deducted from their regular pay because of outside employment, Vancouver headquarters of the hiring of servicemen, Colonel Wood told the farmers to "go ahead and hire the men."

"I would ignore those complaints," Colonel Wood said. "Your need is greater than theirs."

However, the two men did not minimize the problem of securing help in the face of high wages offered in industry and urged the farmers to take immediate action.

"The public should be told that stores here were allotted their quotas on the basis of 1941 population figures," Reeve Warren told the meeting. "I feel that we may have the same situation in food as we now have in fuel. However, the stores' depleted stocks of canned goods could be replaced by the produce of your farms if you had the help."

Approve Basis Of Giraud Plan

LONDON, April 15 (CP).—The French National Committee approved today "certain basic principles" of Gen. Henri Giraud's proposals for unity of the French Empire, but said in a communique that "several important points remain to be clarified."

Those points of difference will be discussed in Africa by Gen. Georges Catroux, liaison officer between Giraud and Gen. Charles De Gaulle, who is returning to Algiers immediately.

The committee declared that it still feels it is necessary for De Gaulle to go to Algiers because "unity of the Empire must be brought about as rapidly as possible and in conformity with principles which have guided the Fighting French in the war since June 18, 1940."

Vancouver Petty Officer Tells of Chasing Submarine

AN EASTERN CANADIAN PORT, April 15 (CP).—W. A. McPherson, of Winnipeg and Vancouver, today is proudly wearing the cross hooks of a petty officer following a recent promotion. He has behind him more than two years' sea time in the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve.

McPherson, said Naval Headquarters in a press release, joined the navy eight months before the outbreak of the present war as an ordinary seaman and has seen service on several of Canada's submarine-chasing corvettes. He was a printer before the war.

McPherson underwent his most exciting experience while serving in a corvette on convoy duty in the North Atlantic last Summer. He was acting as a gunlayer at the time. "We had just left the convoy," he said, "when we spotted a submarine surfaced about a mile away. We saw her before she saw us and opened fire. But she submerged.

"We chased her and dropped some depth charges. Then she started attacking us. She let go two torpedoes at us and I could follow their path. They passed about fifty feet off the stern—which was too close for comfort—and exploded about ten minutes later."

McPherson is at present on a shore job here, but hopes to go back to sea soon. His wife lives at Vancouver and his mother at Winnipeg.

Air Lines Proposes Reduction in Rates

United Air Lines has announced that its proposed revised tariffs, notice of which it has filed with the Civil Aeronautics Board for approval, will result in substantial rate reductions between Vancouver and scores of other cities, and it estimates that United's fare reduction will total approximately $1,600,000 annually on the basis of present volume of business.

If the Civil Aeronautics Board approves United's proposed lower tariffs, the new fares will generally be no higher than first class train travel costs and in some places United's plane fares would be lower.

United's notice, filed by W. A. Patterson, the company's president, advised the board, which announced its receipt yesterday, that the lower fares will be filed as of May 1 with a proposed effective date of June 1.

The largest passenger rate cuts are made on the Pacific Coast where United is the only operator. Some of the proposed coastal reductions run as high as 20 to 25 per cent.

The reduced fares would apply on all United's planes, as the company now is operating standardized equipment, 21-passenger Mainliners.

Montagu Norman Undergoes Operation

LONDON, April 15 (CP).—Montagu Norman, governor of the Bank of England, underwent an emergency operation on the Isle of Man yesterday, it was announced today. He was taken ill while visiting relatives. His progress was reported satisfactory.

One vessel of the United States Navy has ten pennies beneath the foremast, and two dimes, three nickels and twenty-eight pennies beneath the mainmast.

Might Exempt Ferry Pilots From Taxation

Paid High Salaries Because of Big Risk

OTTAWA, April 15 (CP).—Finance Minister Ilsley tonight told the House of Commons he was giving consideration to appeals for partial income tax exemptions on salaries paid [illegible] members of the R.A.F. Ferry Command.

He intimated that ameliorating regulations might be made in the interests of the Canadian air crew members who ferry planes across the Atlantic and often fly through enemy action, but remain within the status of civilians.

Appeals on behalf of the pilots and air crew engaged in this work were initiated in the committee of ways and means tonight by A. W. Neil (Independent, Comox-Alberni) and endorsed by many members on all sides.

Mr. Neill said the ferry pilots received high salaries because of the risks they undertook, but salaries were not high enough to enable them to provide against these risks because insurance rates in their occupation were so high.

They received no allowances or benefits apart from their salaries.

Gordon Ross (Liberal, Moose Jaw) told the committee that out of a strength of about 330 men the casualties since the war were 121. If any class deserved exemption from income tax it was the ferry pilots, he said.

Bill "Shocking"

eral million dollars in its surplus account and the taxation branch was watching to see when it came out to shareholders so they could tax it.

ESTABLISHED COMPANY ON ATLANTIC ISLAND

But it never did come out into the open for taxation because the owners had established a company "on an island in the Atlantic" and transferred the money there for distribution to shareholders.

Under the power of the section now being amended the Treasury Board had all the shareholders before it and witnesses had been brought from the "island."

The result was that a large amount of money was collected in the form of taxation on these millions but not as much as if the clause had been stronger. However, the minister said, a very large sum was paid over.

"Under the guns," said Mr. Hanson.

Mr. Ilsley said the power he proposed might go too far and he was anxious to have the opinion of the members because he did not want to go farther than Parliament wanted him to. If members had a better suggestion to offer he would listen to it.

The proposed amendment would be retroactive to 1939, and would apply to transactions in or out of Canada. He placed it on Hansard for members to study before discussing and passing upon it tomorrow.

Mr. Coldwell said he agreed entirely with the object of the clause, but believed the power to enforce it should be "a properly constituted court."

Mr. Hanson said he too agreed that there should be no evasion permitted and said he never could understand the patriotism of men who take their wealth away from Canada to become "lords" on an island outside Canada.

BENNETT'S REMOVAL CAUSE OF EXCHANGE

"Or in England," suggested George Cruickshank (Liberal, Fraser Valley), precipitating an interchange which apparently referred to former Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, now Viscount Bennett, who took up residence in England some five years ago.

"He paid more taxes than you and did more for Canada," Mr. Hanson declared over shouts and laughter from Liberal members.

J. G. Diefenbaker (Progressive Conservative, Lake Centre) said he had opposed the tendency to allocate to administrative boards rights over the individual.

"The danger is the servant may in fact become master," he said.

Safeguards should be assured when rights were delegated to bodies not responsible to Parliament.

The law should be enforced in respect to income tax, but all citizens should have the right to equal access to the courts.

Parliament was abrogating certain rights. Decisions made by boards interfering with private rights would deny the right of access to the courts. Parliament should demand that the right of appeal to the courts be granted.

"We as a Parliament have a right to say that when any administrative board takes away a citizen's individual right there must be permission for appeal to the courts," he continued.

Are Commissioned

LONDON, April 15 (CP).—R.C.A.F. Overseas Headquarters announced the following airmen have been commissioned as pilot officers:

British Columbia: R. G. Fowlie, J. C. Brown and J. M. Taylor, Vancouver; R. R. Flynn, Passmore; R. J. S. Dowson, West Summerland.

seen to burst among ten or fifteen seaplanes in the harbor. Although twenty-five or thirty enemy fighters attacked the big American planes, none was lost and ten Axis planes were shot down.

Fragmentation bombs also were showered on Monferrato's landing field and installations, where fires sprang up. Again twenty-five or more enemy planes tried to intercept the raiders, and two of them were downed.

HALF OF EIGHTER FORCE IS DOWNED

In the attack on El Aouina, near Tunis, fifteen or twenty fighters arose to combat the sturdy bombers, whose gunners downed seven Messerschmitt 109's.

Light and medium bombers of the "tactical air force" concentrated on La Sebala airdrome, eight miles north of Tunis. R.A.F. Bisleys and French bombers participated in this raid and observers reported fires dotted the field upon their departure.

Axis transports also were raked, the communique saying some were destroyed and others left burning.

Malta-based fighters again struck at Sicilian targets last night in the co-ordinated effort to paralyze Marshal Rommel's supply and communication lines.

An announcement by the United States Army Air Forces today said: "The entire dockyard area of Ferryville, which is vitally important to the flow of Axis supplies into North Africa, has been devastated by the northwest 'strategic air force.'"

Aerial photographs of this port at the southwestern end of Lake Bizerte showed that traffic there now had ceased, and that the last cargo-handling facilities was severely damaged March 24.

Aviation experts said every building in the Ferryville dock area had been destroyed or rendered useless. The few still standing are roofless, they said, and one large factory is wrecked completely.

OIL STORAGE TANKS BLASTED

Four of the six known oil storage tanks in the area were "ported knocked out.

The American attack last month sank a merchant vessel, which exploded and ripped a hole, 315 by 150 feet, in the Ferryville quay. The ship also settled in such a position that it blocks the entrance to the drydock.

A submarine also was reported sunk in that attack, and half of a fleet of small boats were wiped out. Two escort vessels and one inactive merchant vessel were known to have been hit, and three motor barges disappeared completely.

In addition, a destroyer in drydock was crippled and a small merchant vessel was settled at the stern.

Chinese Ask Withdrawal of Recommendation

The Victoria Chinese Youth Association has asked Vancouver Local Council of Women to withdraw a recommendation on Chinese immigration endorsed at its recent annual meeting, Robert Lowe, secretary of the Chinese association, said yesterday.

The recommendation, brought forward by the immigration committee, asked that Chinese as nationals of a race that cannot be absorbed as Canadians by intermarriage be excluded from Canada.

In a letter of protest to Mrs. Howard Hines, convener of the immigration committee, the Chinese association said it did not believe the council "has any inexpedient intentions, but that it arrived at its decision through misunderstanding of the facts regarding the Chinese people."

In its letter, signed by Eric Joe, president, and Mr. Lowe, the association viewed the council's attitude on Chinese immigration as "unfavorable" and the implied conception of the Chinese people as "grossly mistaken."

The Chinese pointed out the great national effort being made by their countrymen in the war against Japan, an enemy "who has aspirations to plant his flag on the soil of Canada," and declared that the decision made by the Vancouver council "not only is contrary to the democratic principles as proclaimed by leaders of the United Nations, but is highly unjudicious to a degree that may constitute an impediment to the Allied war effort."

It is understood that the Vancouver women's immigration committee will convene soon to consider the Chinese association's request.

Report Thousands Of Fires Started In Berlin by Raid

ANKARA, Turkey, April 15 (CP).—Travelers arriving here from Germany said that "literally thousands" of fires were started in Berlin and that thousands were homeless throughout the city after the last R.A.F. raid, which they described as Berlin's worst. Some of the fires, they said, burned three days.

The removal squads mostly were war prisoners promised their freedom if they did the job successfully.

The travelers said that after the March raids 70,000 were homeless in Berlin and that the dead totaled at least 500.

Although German soldiers were declared to be eating well, the food and clothing situation in the capital was described as bad.

Civilian morale, the travelers reported, was poor. "The old confidence in Hitler has disappeared, the hope of victory has been given up, and everyone is asking when the war will finish," they said.

CALGARY, April 15 (CP).—Two R.C.A.F. airmen from the Shepard Flying Field, attached to No. 2 Wireless School, Calgary, were instantly killed at approximately 11:15 a.m. Wednesday when their training plane crashed four miles west of Delacour, fifteen miles east of here. Next of kin have been notified and the names of the airmen will be issued shortly.

FIRE was a pilot's nightmare!

Goodyear "self-sealing" gasoline tanks . . . the result of 24 years of research . . . provide effective protection against fire, caused by tank-piercing bullets . . . the greatest single hazard of aerial combat in the last war.

● In World War I, fighting 'planes became flaming comets in the twinkling of an eye. Airmen of the last war know the terrific toll taken by gasoline fires. 75% of all 'planes shot down fell because they became blazing coffins in mid-air. But not today! Fire, the deadly enemy of every flier, is under control . . . because Goodyear tackled the problem many years ago.

Right after the last war, an award was offered for the best means of preventing fires caused by bullet-punctured gasoline tanks. Goodyear came up with the answer in 1920—and won the award for a "self-sealing" tank. It was hailed as a miracle by old-time pilots. It was accepted as one of the finest inventions for aviation safety . . . and it became the basic design for present "self-sealing" tanks which protect the lives of our boys who fly.

Over the battlefronts of the earth, Goodyear self-sealing gasoline tanks are quenching fire-hazards just as Goodyear life-rafts are saving the lives of men "forced down" over water. In other ways, too, Goodyear research has brought to practical conclusion many wartime uses for rubber . . . bogie wheels for tanks, bullet-proof tires for army vehicles, water-proof and moisture-proof Pliofilm for protecting precious cargoes, modern barrage and observation balloons, bullet-sealing gasoline hose, inflatable life vests . . . a host of wartime rubber products, not forgetting, of course, Goodyear's long and successful search for a versatile and thoroughly practical synthetic rubber . . . "Chemigum".

Thus in war, as in peace, the greatest name in rubber is "Goodyear" . . . a name that promises much for the future in the development and manufacture of rubber products . . . natural or synthetic.

The self-sealing gasoline tank as developed by Goodyear is of plastic construction with a thick lining in which Chemigum (Goodyear's synthetic rubber) and a special soft natural rubber compound are combined in layers. When a bullet punctures this non-splitting tank the lining-material, in contact with gasoline, swells and plugs the hole.

GOODYEAR — THE GREATEST NAME IN RUBBER

GOODYEAR LIFE-RAFTS are saving lives in the seven seas of the world. No longer is "over-water" flying the tremendous hazard it once was.

GOODYEAR "BOGIE WHEELS" for tanks . . . another Goodyear product that helps increase the efficiency of our fighting vehicles.

GOODYEAR PLIOFILM . . . the transparent, tough moisture-proof and water-proof film, is safeguarding precious materials "in transit" for the war fronts.

SO WE CHLORINATE!

For what they may be worth, here are the reasons furnished by Mr. Ian Mackenzie, Minister of Health and Pensions, for the Dominion's mandatory order to Victoria City to chlorinate its water for the duration of the war. Summing up a 2,000 word "explanation," Mr. Mackenzie states:

"The Dominion Government's order for chlorination is a war measure for the duration of the war only. It was considered necessary for two reasons: (a) the Federal Government's responsibility for the health of our Canadian Forces and munition workers; (b) secret information having to do with intrinsic defence against enemy action. The desired protection would not be furnished merely by installing the plant and deferring operation until an emergency.

"Speaking personally, with regard to my own city of Vancouver, I have always shared with my fellow citizens a sense of pride in our beautiful clear mountain water, and I was both shocked and surprised by the reports presented to me a year ago by the officers of my department. I personally shared all the emotions of disappointment and annoyance that had been so freely expressed, particularly in Vancouver, since it became my unhappy responsibility to make decisions which, I fully realized, would be unpopular."

We can assure the Minister of Health and Pensions that both his shock and surprise are fully shared today in the city of Victoria. In all of the argument advanced in favor of chlorination—saving that alone of secret information, of which we hear for the first time—not one item of proof has been offered to the people of this city. We are referred to information the Minister has, and we have not. We are reminded the city asked for it—at least for a portable chlorinator for A.R.P. work—as early as June 16, 1942; and it would seem that that is true. For the rest, we are given the assertions of unnamed officials in the employ of the Dominion; and Mr. Mackenzie's personal conviction that Victorians will so like chlorination that they will retain it voluntarily after the war.

It is perfectly obvious now that the Dominion intends to exercise its mandatory order, and install chlorination here. No additional argument would sway an administration which falls back upon "secret advices," about which we are in no sense informed. The responsibility now is Mr. Mackenzie's; the shock and the surprise, ours. As to where the whole truth may lie in the matter only time will show. We view this situation without the slightest alarm. After all, Victoria this year celebrated its centenary with a cleaner bill of public health than most cities of its size on this continent. We thank the Minister, finally, for his "explanation," such as it is, and Mr. R. W. Mayhew, M.P., for carrying it to Victoria.

AFTER THE WAR

Professor Humfrey Michell, head of the Department of Political Economy in McMaster University, has published a brochure of about ten thousand words bearing the title "Canada After the War." In it he has set forth his views with clearness and moderation. Although he is "opposed to regimentation and "all the intolerable driving and discipline of the body politic" so apparent in totalitarian systems, he is nevertheless in favor of a carefully thought-out plan for post-war reconstruction; and as the war is now "drawing rapidly or slowly to a close—no one can say which, but manifestly approaching its final stages," he goes so far as to say that it is high time that we began to draft the blueprints of our post-war condition.

Professor Michell then goes to work upon the task of drafting the outline of a plan to guide us in the perilous future that lies ahead. It will be noticed that he uses the term "blueprint." This handy expression is apt to raise expectations that are not likely to be realized. Architects and engineers who design houses, bridges and machines can make blueprints. They have their scales and units of measurement. Economists can speculate upon political and economic systems, but they cannot make blueprints of institutions and policies whose spiritual and cultural features are not subject to mathematical measurement.

This essay gives a pretty clear account of the mistakes which Canada and other countries made after the last war, and indicates the steps that must be taken to avoid similar mistakes after the present war has been won. The chief error that underlay our failure to "win the peace" was, in the essayist's opinion, the notion that Germany could be made to pay for the war. Some people thought that in order to do this Germany could manufacture goods and export them to other countries. The trouble was that she could not induce the other countries to buy them. Those countries did not relish the idea of allowing German wares an easy entrance into their markets. Moreover, Britain owed a large war debt in the United States and as the Americans were unwilling to allow British goods to enter the American market, it was impossible for Britain to discharge this war debt. A high American tariff effectively shut out all foreign goods. As a consequence international trade was greatly reduced. Unemployment on a great scale resulted in many countries, and the great depression began.

After the war there will in all likelihood be a dislocation of industry and some confusion. Workers in war industries will experience temporary unemployment until those industries can be readjusted and devoted to peace-time uses. There will, no doubt, be a strong demand on the part of the people for relief from the restrictions and regulations imposed upon them by bureaucrats and controllers, such as rationing, fixed prices and wage scales; and, long accustomed to power, the bureaucrats will be unwilling to relinquish their functions. Assuredly these burdensome restrictions cannot be carried over into peace time, but herein lie certain dangers. The danger of money inflation, for example, must be recognized and resolutely met.

Such a time of danger would be a golden opportunity for the Communists and other radicals to press for a trial of their doctrines. Our greatest danger, however, will come from the evil plight of the inhabitants of the impoverished lands of Europe, in their reaction from the oppressions of the hated Nazi and Fascist systems. These unhappy people will have to learn that their true policy is to avoid totalitarianism in either of its forms and seek safety through the democratic way of life. Our first duty after the war will be to help the starving people of Europe. They will have to be fed and clothed and their homes and cities rebuilt.

In reconstituting the world after the war it is absolutely necessary that freedom of enterprise shall be preserved. Alongside of free enterprise and in no way hampering it there will have to be some government enterprise as well, in public works and improvements. Mr. Michell believes that at all costs we must avoid mass unemployment. There must be in the first place a concerted and organized plan for the development of our national wealth. Secondly, the plan must be neither Communist nor Fascist, but democratic in form and purpose. Third, international trade must be set free from mischievous tariffs. Fourth, sound finance and sound currencies are essential. Fifth, any false notion that our defeated enemies can pay for the war must be abandoned.

The potential wealth of Canada lies ready to our hands to be appropriated to the needs of our population. Professor Michell assures us that it will certainly furnish profitable employment for all of us. The undeveloped resources that lie at our doors are sufficient to provide ample scope for the physical and moral capacities of a vigorous and adventurous race inheriting the pioneering spirit of earlier days. Everyone knows that peace-time effort and investment, if wisely and carefully directed, are constructive. It builds but does not destroy. It creates wealth and conserves it. The machinery and factories, the shipyards and mines that have been developed during the war may all be utilized in peaceful production.

Professor Michell closes his discourse with a quotation from John Stuart Mill, which contains a message of cheer for the countries of Europe ravaged by the war. Mill spoke of the great rapidity with which countries recover from a state of devastation. "There is nothing at all wonderful in the matter. What the enemy has destroyed would have been destroyed in a little time by the inhabitants themselves; the wealth they so rapidly reproduce would have needed to be reproduced and would have been reproduced in any case and probably in as short a time."

STILL FIGHTING VIGOROUSLY

M. Josef Stalin, political leader of all the Soviet Russias and commander-in-chief of the Red Army, estimates that German losses since the beginning of the war on the Eastern Front have totaled 9,000,000 in officers and men put out of action, of whom "not less than 4,000,000 were killed." Frankly, it is difficult to believe this estimate. Were it is the case the ability of the Germans to continue the war could well be questioned. That country, prior to the opening of hostilities in September, 1939, was estimated to have 10,000,000 men with more or less military training and capable of bearing arms; and yet, if M. Stalin's figures are correct, 90 per cent of this force has been put out of action, while at the same time Germany has been able to keep forces of occupation in all the conquered countries of Europe, to maintain a war in North Africa and to provide especially for a concentration of divisions at points where an invasion of continental Europe by British and American forces could be expected.

The probability is that Germany has as many troops in the Fatherland and in the occupied countries of Europe, apart from the Eastern Front, as she has engaged in war with the Soviet Power. The probability, too, is that since June, 1941, when the war against Russia was launched, Germany in all the fighting on that front never absorbed 9,000,000 of her troops, and yet that is the number which Russia claims to have put out of action. Moreover, the fact remains that at the moment the Germans are holding the Russian armies, and this, in view of the recent Soviet offensive following the raising of the siege of Stalingrad, must mean that the enemy is still powerful. It is even forecast that Germany is preparing to launch a Spring offensive on the Eastern Front, the possibility of which would have dwindled to negligence had she already suffered such losses as the Russians claim.

To a degree, it is only possible for armies on the offensive and gaining territory after each new onslaught to estimate the losses they have inflicted on their opponents. Even then they may not know the number of wounded. On the Eastern Front both Germany and Russia have been on the offensive in turn, and figures of losses, therefore, given out by either side, must be accepted as of a propagandist character. Germany in her war against Russia officially claims to have suffered no more than some half a million losses in dead. M. Stalin puts the estimate at 4,000,000. Probably both figures are far wide of the mark. Germany has still very powerful land forces as all estimates in possession of the United Nations show. She could not have, and could not now be holding the Russians, if 9,000,000 of her troops had been put out of action in fighting on the Eastern Front.

The world hath its own dead; great motions start
In human breasts, and make for them a place
In that hushed sanctuary of the race
Where every day men come, kneel, and depart.

Of them, O English nurse, henceforth thou art,
A name to pray on, and to all a face
Of household consecration; such His grace
Whose universal dwelling is the heart.

O gentle hands that soothed the soldier's brow,
And knew no service save of Christ the Lord!
Thy country now is all humanity!
How like a flower thy womanhood doth show
In the harsh scything of the German sword,
And beautifies the world that saw it die!

—George Edward Woodberry.

Prohibition will work great injury to the cause of temperance. It is a species of intemperance within itself; for it goes beyond the bounds of reason in that it attempts to control a man's appetite by legislation, and makes a crime out of things that are no crimes. A prohibition law strikes a blow at the very principles upon which our government was founded.—Abraham Lincoln.

A little learning is a dangerous thing;
Drink deep, or taste not the Pierian spring.
There shallow draughts intoxicate the brain,
And drinking largely sobers us again.

ON THOUGHTS

Sometimes in the warm Spring evenings, when the day's work is done, members of the Reverie Club group their chairs about the open windows as the long twilight slopes towards the golden West. In silence, they watch the earth's rim roll up, turning away from the setting sun, watch the last, long corridors of light, with their amber, rose and opalescent walls, and watch the coming of night, in its silent mantle, to enfold the ugliness of the world. Long thoughts start then, thoughts that members of the Reverie Club do not share even with one another. But I, an observer, have talked with them, and I know. It is a different world that each sees.

The Warrior thinks of wars that have past; the men—now forgotten—who saved freedom then; of the causes of war, and the world's brittle temper; of the age-old pledge on the battlefield, and the age-old neglect at home when Peace returned in her rags and tatters. And the Warrior sighs for the men who did not come back—the young men, the brilliant men, the men who laid aside all of their loving and living that a world might be free to breathe. The Warrior sighs—his fighting days are over—but he does not speak. Ah, sometimes, if one listened very closely, he might hear a single muttered phrase; something about "those wonderful, wonderful boys!"

The Philosopher thinks on the folly of men, and their dearly-bought wisdom. He sees the Don Quixotes riding full tilt at their windmills; the stubborn fellows who for all of their lives will butt at a strong stone wall; the hucksters, the traders and conveyancers; the "unco guid," and psalm-singing hypocrites; the plain, the faithful and the earnest; the shallow and their make-belief; the sham world of fashion, the dark world of fear, and the loud world of cant. Thinks, too, of little children; so fresh, so sweet and so unscheming. Who enter such a tortured world. But if anyone happened to speak to the Philosopher then, he would say that it takes all sorts and conditions of individuals to make one world.

In the Builder one might find a restless surge, that sweeps like an angry tide against containing barriers. Here is a fellow who would be up, and on; drawing people together; fighting back the wilderness; dyking and draining land; removing cities from the flood path; overcoming swamps and pestilence; convincing people, compelling their "yes's"; driving mankind forward by the sheer urge to build, to unite, to complete, to make a whole. And all one would get from the Builder at such a moment would be a curt objection to someone who had used the word "can't," in the sense of something that could not be done. I know, too, how he would phrase it. It would be: "Stuff and nonsense—there is no such word as can't."

Or take the Astronomer, as twilight volplanes swiftly after the setting sun. His are long thoughts, indeed. Night is the dress of universe, and light its exception. This dim speck of a solar system, with its lilliputian planets, is lost in the void of a black abyss, so vast that only by figures can it even be symbolized. A curved and contained "space." An indifferent, and perhaps a reversible, contact with "time." The Astronomer's thoughts are not to be found in three-dimensional words. And yet this I know, he will pause long over a phrase by Copernicus—who once called it the Divine Workship—one where something much bigger and vastly more complicated than all that men see was being worked out, and by a Master Architect. Yet, if one spoke to the Astronomer at such a time, like as not he would shrug, and say: "Drat that moon!"

The Mariner, in alien seas with a long-dispersed crew; the Aviator, alone with a purring motor and the brightening stars; the Hunter, afield again with a setter which long since has gone to its last covert; the Grouch, whose barnacled exterior hides a very soft heart; what do they not see as the sun goes down! Of them all, I like best to observe the Artist; for he studies man, as man ponders his circumstances—and tries without end to make them a closer, more comfortable fit. What if they each do see a different world? Sometimes I think it is the same world, and one that gives us back mainly the image of that which we are. I have watched many an hour go by in the Reverie Club without one word spoken, but I do not account that time lost. Silence teaches us most; up to that long silence when there will be answered for us—all!

For the Weary, Rest

(From The Times, London)

It is most difficult to get a busy person to realise that he needs a rest. So has lately declared the Joint Parliamentary Secretary to the Ministry of Labor; and adding "she" to "he," as he doubtless intended, it is a truth which no one is likely to contest. Least of all is it disputable at a time when so many people are so deliberately resolute to "keep going." Tiredness is conspicuously one of those afflictions for which the sufferer resorts to a hair of the dog that bit him. To stop short is the last thing he thinks of, but rather adopts the treatment recommended by its owner for a famous cabhorse: "We bears him up werry tight, and takes him in werry short, so that he can't werry well fall down, and we've got a pair o' precious large wheels on; so ven he does move, they run after him, and he must go on—he can't help it." That such a remedy is for a time effective is within nearly every one's experience. Nobody knows how tired he is until for a little while he does nothing; and then the tiredness comes, as it were, oozing out of him and brings with it, perversely enough, a restless eagerness to begin again. He, or more particularly she, is sure to discover at such a moment that there is a cupboard badly in need of "clearing out." If she were only a little less weary she would permit the dusty skeleton to repose there a few days longer, but now it must be tackled on the instant. By such means weariness can be fought off for a while, but not for ever. Even the cabhorse had to be taken out of the cab sometimes and then, as we know, it always fell down. To work past a normal hour at night is not necessarily to long for bed, for the one ideal moment has been obstinately allowed to pass. Nature having given her hint, which has not been taken, sulks and does not repeat it, but she gets her own back in the end.

There are perhaps those who have never felt the overwhelming tiredness of work in the ordinary sense, but know all about it from having worked too hard at their play and so contracted the insidious disease called staleness. It is one against which the coach of a crew, clucking like a solicitous hen after eight chicks, is always on the alert. One who worked hard in both directions and was first a champion runner and later a learned judge wrote with obvious feeling for fellow-sufferers: "If once a man in training gets a bit stale, it is a far harder task to bring him back to fitness than to make him fit in the first instance." There are a few heroic souls who can play themselves through a fit of staleness and emerge not merely cured but radiant, the stronger for that bitter experience; but they are exceptional and such a cure may turn out to be a kill. The victim of too much work of whatever kind is more likely to profit by the treatment which Mr. Tomlinson calls the "restbreak." He may not enjoy that unadulterated bliss which found vent in the words of the unknown poetess:

Don't mourn for me now, don't mourn for me never,
I'm going to do nothing for ever and ever.

On the contrary he may at first find "the insupportable labor of doing nothing" worse to bear than that of doing too many things for too long. He will puzzle his brain why he is so silly as to be tired, handing himself imaginary white feathers and feeling, quite superfluously, ashamed. Even that poor old cabhorse probably tried to get up again and needed someone to sit on his head. We can only hope that he was given a compulsory rest-break at last, and that after it he returned almost prancing to his familiar streets.

Victoria Again Port of Call—Possibly because of the recent commandeering of the two big C.P.R. ocean liners, the Empress of Asia and the Empress of Russia, and the resultant opportunity of getting the trade which would otherwise have gone to them, the Blue Funnel Line has decided to resume its sailings between the Orient and this port. The first steamship which will call here is the Protesniaus, which left Hongkong at the latter end of the month, and which is due at this port about Saturday. The other vessels, which will make this a port of call are the Ixion and the Tyndareus, the last-named steamer being new to the Trans-Pacific trade, and in consequence unknown in Victoria.

It is reported that the licences this session to American fishermen will be advanced from $1 to $2 per ton.

CHLORINATION NOT SCIENTIFIC

Sir,—Anyone conversant with modern biology would be aware that diluting pure water with an irritant poison could not be the true scientific solution of water purification any more than quinine could be for malaria. Ozone, not chlorine, is the true modern solution of the problem. The molecule of oxygen is a union of two oxygen atoms, that of ozone is a union of three. The third atom of ozone is not strongly attached and can be caused to break away and attack oxydizable matter, and ozone is thus a powerful germicide "peculiarly valuable in rendering tainted water fit for human consumption" (R. G. Skerrett, "Ozone Treatment of Water Supply").

This is not a new discovery. Europe has led us for several decades in this use of ozone, but its application on a large scale is recent on this continent. Ozone not only oxidizes the water but also "destroys disease-causing bacteria and rids water of offensive odor and taste." If is superior to chlorine as a germicide, and unlike chlorine is not a poison and does not create any noxious taste or smell. An ozone plant has recently been installed by Philadelphia, where the water is contaminated by sewage and industrial wastes and has a chlorophenol taste. At Whiting, Indiana, where water was taken from Lake Michigan, and was contaminated by 150 industrial plants and sewage, a similar plant was most successful. But prior to 1939, although treated with chlorine, alum and ammonia, and filtered, "the water had bad odor and an oily, tarry, phenolic taste." But now, under ozone treatment, "Whiting, despite the well-nigh impossible conditions governing its supply, has an acceptable and safe drinking water." Chlorination is unsuitable in the case of pure mountain water like ours. Great cities like Liverpool and Birmingham obtained their supply from the Welsh hills on purpose to avoid any need for chlorination.

Where such water is free from lime and bacteria then (even on Mr. Carmichael's showing) "most of the string" of chlorine would remain, and we should consume it. In fact, according to the chlorinator's logic there is no sense in going to the expense of obtaining a pure supply. But the truth is that the chlorination of such water is unscientific and contrary to modern practice in up-to-date countries.

As Dr. Berman and Mr. Bowering stated, sand filtration is the correct treatment for such water.

CHLORINATION

Sir,—I do not wish to prolong this discussion on chlorination, but Mr. Langley's letter in your issue of today seems to call for some reply from me.

He puts me down as a chlorinationist. My reply is that I do not know whether it is necessary or not, but Government experts, who know more about it than I do, say it should be done, therefore I bow to their superior knowledge.

I give my own answers to some of Mr. Langley's questions.

1. Is it the practice to chlorinate during peacetime waters such as Sooke Lake? The answer is "No."

2. Is the water of Sooke Lake subject to contamination during wartime any more than during peacetime? I say "Yes."

3. If the enemy had designs on Sooke Lake would chlorination absolutely protect the water? Answer doubtful.

If chlorination is properly carried out there would be no ill effects.

The position at present is that we have an uninformed public opposing a decision of experts.

Observation Car

By G.S.

A former Victorian gave us the following information on arrival from San Francisco this week: "Hundreds of women in San Francisco carry police whistles to summon aid when accosted by strangers. Tea is not rationed; you can buy all you like. Humburger sells for sixty cents per pound. There are two or three meatless days per week when it is impossible to obtain meat in any form. Butter is fifty-nine cents per pound. On the way up by train we were without food for twenty-four hours and had to wire ahead to Portland for box lunches. On arrival there we found a good meal cost $1.50 without dessert. It was practically impossible to get hotel rooms at Seattle" . . . We should not be surprised to see all shops closed on Wednesdays, and Victoria turned into a ghost city one day per week. It is unfortunate that those in shipyards and other war industries are unable to take advantage of regular store hours. A closing hour of 6 o'clock would be a great help to many . . . A burly police sergeant who raises rabbits in an attempt to nullify the future effects of meat rationing now wishes that he had never seen one of the furry animals. During the week he contracted an eye ailment spread by rabbits and is now painfully confined to his home . . . We hope that butchers revise their prices when meat rationing becomes effective. It will not be fair to expect customers to pay for bones in steaks and roasts when the ration calls for two pounds of actual meat . . . Peanuts were originally discovered in South America. Today they are used to manufacture the vitamin thiamin, for cooking oil in submarine galleys, synthetic rubber, nitro-glycerine, plastic materials, insulation board, cork substitutes, cattle feed, and for polishing tinplate, steel bearings and castings.

CHANGE NOT NEEDED

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—War Secretary Henry Stimson said today that he does not believe the manpower situation in the United States requires lowering minimum draft age from eighteen to seventeen. His remark was in reply to a press conference question.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

To find the depth of water on the sill at the Esquimalt Drydock at any tide, add 30 feet to the height of high water as above given.

"Are these the largest oranges you have?" asked Mrs. Brown, of the fruiterer. "Oh, no, ma'am," was the reply, "those are only the 'large' size. We also have the larger, mammoth, giant, jumbo, colossal and super-colossal sizes."

According to Culbertson - - -

There is no denying the fact that a certain type of bidding, even when it grossly overvalues the combined hands, is sometimes more successful than more orthodox or cautious technique. Consider the surprising result in the following deal:

West, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.
Rubber bridge.

NORTH
♠ K 10 5 3
♥ A 9 8
♦ A 7 5
♣ A 6 2

WEST
♠ A 7
♥ K Q J 10 4 2
♦ 8 6
♣ Q 4 3

EAST
♠ Q J 9
♥ 6 5 3
♦ J 10 9
♣ K J 10 7

SOUTH
♠ 8 6 4 2
♥ 7
♦ K Q 4 3 2
♣ 9 8 5

The bidding

West	North	East	South
1 ♥	Dble.	Pass	1 ♠
2 ♥	3 ♠	Pass	4 ♠
Pass	Pass	Dble.	Pass
Pass	Pass

Many of my readers will, I imagine, take exception to both of South's bids, but, as a matter of fact, they will be on the wrong track. It was North who was highly optimistic and who, by overbidding so extravagantly on the second round, lured his partner into believing that a four spade contract would be an odds-on bet. North's initial action, the takeout double, was eminently correct, but when South could respond to this with only one spade, a single raise, and a free raise at that, would have done full justice to North's holding.

As to South's responses, these were not at all illogical. The takeout double of one major suit strongly invites a response in the other major, hence South was merely co-operating when he mentioned his weak four card spade suit rather than his five card diamond suit. Then, when North showed such great enthusiasm for spades, compounding his previous action, South looked to North for a much better hand, and on the strength of his own singleton heart and good diamond suit, tried for the game in spades.

The fact that diamonds had not been mentioned at any time during the bidding complicated matters enormously for the defenders and had a very happy result for the North-South team. West opened the heart king. Dummy's ace won and a low spade was returned. East's nine held and East now made what appeared to be a constructive play: he returned the diamond jack. How was he to know that a club lead from his K-J was imperative?) Declarer won with the king and led a second trump. West won and led his remaining diamond. This was won in dummy with the ace and now a heart was ruffed in the closed hand. East's last spade was neatly removed and declarer then ran off the diamond suit, discarding a heart and a club from dummy. The defenders had to be given a club trick, but this was only their third trick, and thus the optimistic contract was fulfilled.

MARINE and TRANSPORTATION

Train Crew Saves Score From Flood

EDMONTON, April 15 (CP).—The crew of a Canadian National Railways train, working knee-deep in water, was credited today with saving the lives of at least a score of persons when flood waters swept the town of Whitecourt from the ice-jammed junction of the McLeod and Athabaska Rivers Wednesday.

O. C. Brazier, a candy salesman who arrived today from the flooded town 100 miles northwest of here, said the train crew waded through water three and four feet deep in the black of night, carrying women and children to the safety of a railway coach on the C.N.R. tracks, after the flood caught the townspeople unawares.

"I was at the station when we noticed a small stream of water on the main street," he said. "I went to the hotel fifty yards away to get my grip and when I came back to the station, the water was three feet high."

People in two-storey houses sought the safety of upper floors. Logs and drowned cats and dogs were seen floating through the town, Mr. Brazier said.

The regular C.N.R. train moved out of Whitecourt for Mayerthorpe, eighty-five miles northwest of Edmonton, six hours ahead of schedule because of the flood and many Whitecourt residents left with it. Two hundred remained in the passenger coach spotted on a side track.

"When I left the waters were still high," Brazier said.

No estimate of damage in the flood was immediately available.

Escort Carrier To Be Launched

PORTLAND, Ore., April 15 (AP).—Henry J. Kaiser's Vancouver, Wash., shipyard will launch its second aircraft escort carrier, the H.M.S. Ameer, on Monday, the company's public relations office announced today. The launching will come just two weeks after the yard's first escort carrier, the Alazon Bay, went down the ways.

The Ameer will be turned over to the British Navy under lend-lease. It will be christened by Mrs. Ben Moreell, Washington, D.C., wife of Rear Admiral Moreell, chief of the Navy's Bureau of Yards and Docks.

NOTICE TO MARINERS

Mariners are advised that the channel, under the fixed span of the Kitsilano Bridge, False Creek, will be closed to traffic from approximately 23:30 hours on Sunday, April 18, till 09:00 hours on Monday, April 19. Mariners should use extreme caution navigating at or near the entrance to False Creek during the above mentioned times, and no tows of logs or scows should enter the creek until a large vessel is well clear of all bridges and safely out in English Bay.

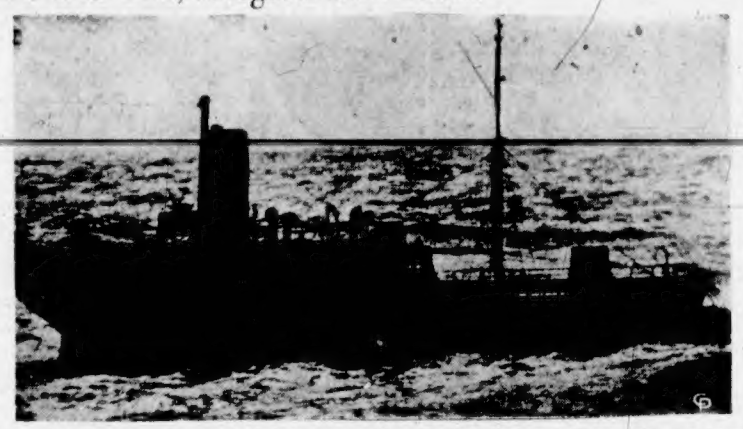
Blown in Two, Freighter Still Floats



This derelict adrift in the North Atlantic is the stern half of a United Nations freighter which was blown apart by a torpedo striking amidships. Both bow and stern of the vessel remained afloat, although completely separated, and they drifted miles apart before coast guards reached the sections and blew them up with gunfire and depth charges to remove them as a menace to navigation.

Lady Nelson, Canada's First Hospital Ship, Most Modern

Now Reveal Canadian National Steamship Was Sunk Last Spring in West Indies by U-Boat

HALIFAX, April 15 (AP).—Sparkling in her new mercy garb of white, green and red, and with the Canadian Ensign proudly flying from her jackstaff, the Canadian National steamship Lady Nelson, Canada's first hospital ship, now is ready to embark on her new career of carrying home the sick and wounded sons of the Dominion.

The Lady Nelson herself was once a "hospital case," after she was blasted by an Axis U-boat one night last Spring while lying at her dock at Castries on the island of St. Lucia in the Windward Islands.

Surfacing offshore, the submarine loosed several torpedoes toward the Nelson and other ships tied up in harbor. A torpedo ripped into the liner, killing several negro deck passengers who were sleeping directly above the compartment where the "fish" exploded.

She settled into the water beside the pier and for a time was given up for lost. Later salvage operations were begun, and she was raised and repaired, and converted into a modern hospital ship.

At the time of the attack, only a terse communique was issued by British authorities on the West Indies island, saying an attack had been made, causing some casualties. Only now has censorship permitted mention of the fact that it was the Lady Nelson that was sunk.

MOST MODERN HOSPITAL EQUIPMENT

Stripped of her luxury accommodations of peacetime, the former southern cruise ship has been fitted with the most modern medical and surgical equipment available, and carries a staff of seventy trained, skilled medical and nursing personnel from the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps.

Until now in the present war, Canadian wounded have been brought back in small groups on troopships or on British hospital ships. During the first Great War five hospital ships plied the Atlantic between Britain and this country, but this is the first Canadian ship to take up the vital service.

Rebuilt from stem to stern, the sleek, 7,970-ton liner now will accommodate 518 patients. About 200 of these would be convalescent or walking cases and the remainder bed cases.

The top deck is taken up with three large medical wards of forty to fifty patients each, and the next deck has six surgical wards with twelve to eighteen patients each. Comfortable cabins for invalid officers, a huge 180-bed ward for walking cases, massage and treatment rooms and accommodation for mental patients are found elsewhere in the ship.

Diet kitchens to prepare special foods for the patients are attached to the wards, each a carefully-planned kitchenette. Most of the food will be prepared in the main ship's galley, however.

FIRST RATE STERILIZING EQIPMENT

In the spotless operating room modern instruments, "shadowless" lamps and up-to-the-minute sterilizing equipment are all shipshape and readily available for any call made on the ship's surgeon.

Capt. George W. Welch of Halifax, who commanded her in her cruise ship days, is still at the helm.

Women All Set For Radio Posts With Air Lines

WINNIPEG, April 15.—After a course of study and practical work which lasted three months, nineteen women radio operators graduated on Thursday night and will soon be sent to their posts in Trans-Canada Air Lines service in various parts of Canada.

Recruited from Vancouver, Victoria, Toronto and other centres, they will replace men gone on active service and are the first women radio operators to be employed by T.C.A.

In the Fort Garry Hotel, at their graduation dinner, they heard O. T. Larson, vice-president, and R. F. George, operations manager of the air line, welcome them as "partners" in the national air service and emphasize their responsibilities. On behalf of the class, Betty Stewart, of Toronto, made a presentation to Max Drexel, their instructor.

The course was conducted under the supervision of S. S. Stevens, superintendent of communications.

More Aircraft For MacArthur

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP).—A constantly increasing flow of aircraft and other military supplies was promised today by War Secretary Henry Stimson for the forces of Gen. Douglas MacArthur in the Southwest Pacific.

Taking cognizance at his press conference of recent pleas from Australia for additional planes to meet the more aggressive Japanese aerial activity of recent weeks, Stimson said "we will keep our American and Australian flyers supplied with sufficient planes not only to replace our losses but to build up our aircraft to counter the increasing enemy air strength."

The secretary said that such appeals for additional material came to this country from all theatres of operations, and added that vigorous public officials in areas close to the war would be remiss in their duties if they failed to press their demands.

Australian officials have frequently called for more help.

Dispute Control Of Shipbuilding

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP).—A behind-the-scenes struggle between the United States Navy Department and the War Shipping Administration for control over the auxiliary ship construction programme was disclosed today by the House of Representatives naval committee in recommending 1,000,000 tons of new vessels.

In a formal report, the committee said: "It has been proposed that the navy not build this type of ship in the future, bu that it be built or acquired solely by the Maritime Commission and made available to the navy.

The committee asserted that such a change in policy "at this time would be catastrophic," that it would make the Navy Department a "pensioner" of the War Shipping Administration, and prevent Congress from filling navy needs "in an orderly manner."

Meanwhile, it was learned the navy presented to the Budget Bureau its request for the 1,000,000 tons of auxiliary vessels, and was turned down with notice the Shipping Administration would get the money and authority to build them.

Taking up the cudgels on behalf of the navy, Chairman Carl Vinson (Democrat, Georgia) and the naval committee drafted a measure authorizing the construction, despite the lack of the usual recommendation for it from the Budget Bureau.

Likely to reach the House floor soon, the bill has been stymied temporarily in the rules committee, with the probability that further information will be sought from the navy, War Shipping Administration and the Budget Bureau.

Aircraft Lodge Gets Agreement

MONTREAL, April 15 (CP).—An agreement covering about 17,000 aircraft workers in the Montreal district has been signed by Aircraft Lodge 712, International Association of Machinists (A.F.L.), and Noorduyn Aviation, Fairchild Aircraft and Canadian Vickers Aircraft Division, it was announced today.

The agreement will run until July 1, 1944, but may be superseded by a national agreement coming into effect prior to that date. It provides clarification of working hours and overtime clauses of a former agreement which expired last July.

The announcement said that "conditions beyond the control of either party" did not permit an earlier conclusion of negotiations which have been under way for ten months. The workers were recently granted a full cost-of-living bonus by the National War Labor Board after it had been refused by the regional board.

"Remake Revue" on Tour Fashions New Clothes Out of Old

MRS. H. M. AITKEN

The "Remake Revue" Shows How the Unworn Parts of the Candy-Striped Taffeta Gown Are Converted Into a Smart Blouse. The Skirt, Incidentally, Was Made Out of an Old Spring Coat.

Mrs. Paul Smith, regional director, announced at a meeting of the Women's Regional Advisory Committee, held Wednesday in the Union Building, that Mrs. H. M. Aitken, national supervisor of conservation for the consumer branch, Wartime Prices and Trades Board, will be in Victoria on May 25 and 26 to stage a "Remake Revue."

The "Remake Revue" is produced to show Canadian women how to make new clothes out of old, thus conserving valuable materials, and illustrates how discarded clothing can be brought into active duty again. The revue is being staged in principal cities from coast to coast and is designed to educate women of Canada to the need for conservation.

MAXIMUM PRICES TO BE POSTED

Maximum retail prices for specified goods will be posted on bulletin boards in Victoria by the Women's Regional Advisory Committee shortly, said Mrs. Paul Smith. A letter from Miss Byrne Hope Sanders stated that local prices are being obtained and as soon as possible these lists will be sent to Victoria covering prices to be charged in this area.

There are now fifty-four liaison officers listed with the Victoria W.R.A.C. An effort will be made to raise this number to one hundred in the near future. Speaking on this, Mrs. Paul Smith remarked that the following year is likely to be a critical one, and that the concerted efforts of all women will be necessary if inflation is to be avoided.

Many complaints from liaison officers regarding alleged overcharges and deterioration of quality were received, and those which were felt to be justified were submitted to the enforcement officers here. Speakers will be sent to many of the provincial conventions being held in the next month or two in an effort to educate the women of the province on the seriousness of the situation, and the need for co-operation in this business of price watching.

REGISTRY MANAGER GIVES REPORT

The seriousness of the housing situation in Victoria was shown by the report of Mrs. W. E. Rayfuse, registry manager. She stated that 885 applications had been received during March, and 500 placements had been made, many of these including families of five or six. There are over 1,000 still on the list for whom the registry has been unable to find homes. An invitation will be extended to Mayor McGavin to visit the registry and obtain first-hand knowledge on the situation.

The potato situation in Victoria was discussed and much dissatisfaction expressed at the fact that only seed potatoes are available here. Answering a complaint about Mexican honey, it was explained that this honey is imported for the use of industrial users only, and has been distributed to packers and other industrial users. In discussing the butter situation it was pointed out that in Great Britain the ration for butter is 8½ pounds a year plus 13 pounds margarine, making 19½ pounds of fats. The Canadian butter allowance is 26 pounds per year.

A survey was conducted recently among the women of Victoria to determine their attitude in the matter of icing cakes, the concensus of opinion being that icing should be eliminated in order to release more sugar for the making of small cakes; but that doughnuts and small cookies, which take very little topping, should still be made. Members of the meeting felt that the sticky "goo" now used as icing added little to the value of the cake.

A report on her recent visit to Ottawa was given by Mrs. Paul Smith.

Spring Concert Is Well Presented By V.H.S. Students

Very enjoyable, and marked by careful preparation was the Spring concert held last night in the auditorium of the Victoria High School, when the students presented an entertaining programme in aid of the War Nurseries Fund for the Red Cross.

In addition to the excellent entertainment there was a lovely display of knitted and sewed articles shown in the foyer of the hall to be sent from the students to bombed-out children in Britain. There was also a money-making scheme in progress, where a hugh red cross had been painted on the floor, with different sections marked nickles, dimes and quarters, and into these corners money was generously thrown.

Reports Show War Leads in I.O.D.E. Work

VANCOUVER, April 15 (CP).—War and its activities dominated all reports presented here today at the annual convention of the British Columbia Chapter of the Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire. Committee statements showed that war work was first in the minds of members throughout the province.

The question of Sunday shows for the troops as outlined by the national body has been laid aside for the time being, said Mrs. J. L. Gates, film convener. Too much war business at meetings had excluded Empire study, said Mrs. C. D. Mackinnon, though junior chapters had prepared programmes along that line.

Isolated primary chapters, numbering twenty-nine, had contributed to such funds as Polish, Cyprian and Russian relief, as well as camp libraries and other similar projects, said Mrs. Rupert Neil. Immigrants from war-torn Europe were mostly self-supporting, said Mrs. A. E. Stokes, reporting on immigration and Canadianization, but she believed special attention should be given now to problems of colonization in the near future, saying the order's influence should be used also to ensure proper housing and living conditions for them.

The Navy League, according to Mrs. W. C. Nichol's report, was asking discontinuance of "adoption" of ships, since some vessels received more than others, and gifts were frequently inappropriate with consequent waste of material.

Peacetime activities of the order were represented in reports of child and family welfare, endowment, work in India, ex-servicemen and Girl Guides.

Mrs. D. F. Saunders reported $10,815 spent on child and family welfare, twenty-two isolated chapters giving $1,226, and donations were valued at $1,245. Mrs. Howard Coulter said thirty-two chapters had given $116 for work in India. Mrs. P. J. Gibson said $1,210 in cash and $338 in value was given to ex-servicemen. Mrs. Goodwin Gibson stressed need for leadership in the Girl Guides, saying there are ten I.O.D.E. companies, seven Brownie packs and one Ranger company.

Canadian Daughters Install Mrs. H. S. Hewitt, President

Mrs. H. S. Hewitt was installed as president of the Canadian Daughters' Assembly No. 5, at an impressive ceremony conducted last evening at the Shrine Hall, by Mrs. M. E. Gardiner, past national president, as installing officer, and Mrs. H. R. Milburn, past president of the Assembly, installing marshal. Other officers are: First vice-president, Mrs. A. Doble; second vice-president, Mrs. M. Stuart; recording secretary, Mrs. I. Kinsey; corresponding secretary, Mrs. G. Ralston; financial secretary, Mrs. M. Whitwell; treasurer, Mrs. A. N. Taylor; chaplain, Mrs. L. Otto; sergeant, Mrs. M. Hemeon; assistant sergeant, Mrs. C. Maundrell; inner guard, Mrs. N. Craig; outer guard, Mrs. G. Jasper; historian, Mrs. B. Fitzsimmons; pianist, Mrs. C. Porteous.

As Mrs. Hewitt assumed her honored office she was the recipient of a beautiful arm bouquet of pink snapdragons and iris, the gift of her daughter and sister. Each officer received dainty corsage bouquets arranged by the floral committee: Mrs. R. H. McInnes and Mrs. A. M. Taylor. The retiring president, Mrs. M. E. Jones, received the past president's jewel and was also presented with a gift of crystal and silver tableware by the newly-installed president. Corsage bouquets in the league colors were presented to the installing officer and marshal.

A pleasing incident took place when Mrs. L. Otto, who has efficiently filled the office of chaplain for the past nine years, was presented with an arm bouquet of roses. The following committee was then named: Sick visiting, Mrs. L. Otto, Mrs. B. T. Tebo, Mrs. B. Fritsch; membership, Mrs. W. Arnold, Mrs. E. Stewart, Mrs. A. Doble; educational, Mrs. M. E. Gardiner, Mrs. N. Craig, Mrs. B. Fitzsimmons; laws and legislature, Mrs. R. H. McInnes, Mrs. J. Sutherland, Mrs. M. Haines; auditing, Mrs. H. R. Milburn, Mrs. G. Jasper, Mrs. A. Stinson; standard bearers, Mrs. J. Sutherland and Mrs. M. E. Gardiner.

Prior to the installation ceremony, gratifying reports of the Assembly's work for the past year were given by the convener of Red Cross work, Mrs. Otto; the educational convener, Mrs. G. Ralston; the treasurer, Mrs. M. Stuart, and an excellent history was read, compiled by Mrs. M. Whitwell.

At the close of the meeting, light refreshments were served by the social committee under the convenership of Mrs. C. A. Kinney.

The large factory had organized its own home guard, and the men were duly posted to guard the works.

BRENTWOOD

The Brentwood Women's Institute recently held its monthly meeting at the Institute Hall, Brentwood Bay. In the absence of the president, Mrs. T. Haddon took the chair. The members decided to buy a $50 war bond. Arrangements were made to hold a no-host bridge party at the hall on Wednesday afternoon, April 28. The institute will send an Easter gift to its adopted child at the Queen Alexandra Solarium, Mill Bay. A good sum was raised with the travelling basket. Mrs. S. Moody won the special prize. Tea was served by Mrs. H. Gilbert and Mrs. M. Hamilton.

LUXTON AND HAPPY VALLEY

The meeting of Luxton and Happy Valley Women's Institute was held recently at Luxton Hall, Mrs. J. Woods, president, in the chair. After the usual business, a sale of plants and seeds was held. All present gave a donation to the shower of dimes for the Solarium. A card party is being arranged for Wednesday, April 28. A showing of pictures by the A.R.P. will be held at Luxton Hall on May 7.

VICTORIA

The Victoria W.I. will meet this afternoon at 2:15 o'clock at the rooms, 635 Fort Street.

A man who had business with a big wholesale firm reports that, while waiting for an interview with a director, two men came out of an inner office, one of them lecturing the other sternly.

"You ought to have been more definite with these people, Harry," said the first one. "With this shilly-shallying you won't get anywhere with them. You should have been decisive and given them a definite answer—yes, no or perhaps."

Graduating class at Gordon Head O.T.C. held a dance last night at the Empress Hotel, when among the special guests were Col. C. Colin Ferris, now officer commanding at the centre, and Mrs. Ferris, of Vancouver.

I've got a war job in my own quiet way, and it's for the duration," says Mr. Gold Seal, famous emblem of Congoleum Rugs and Congoleum by-the-yard. "It's to stand up under punishment as never before so that in spite of everything, your floors will continue to look bright and beautiful. You'll find it hard to replace them in a hurry: that's why the care we put into the making of Congoleum means extra value today. It's value that will show up quickly—if you give it a chance—in added wear and service. For years, as you know, I've stood for the highest in home furnishing values and today, my aim is higher than ever."

CONGOLEUM GOLD SEAL Rugs

HOW TO HELP MR. GOLD SEAL MAKE GOOD
You can get added wear out of your Congoleum floors with very little effort. Brush and mop them regularly and renew the brightness of their surface with an occasional waxing. Make sure too, that the floor underneath is smooth and free from crevices or knobs. If it's a rug, move it every few months to "spread" the traffic. Yes, a little care will pay big dividends.

Simple Income Tax Form Will Save Much Time

MONTREAL, April 15 (CP). — Revenue Minister Gibson gave a description of new simplified income tax form for small taxpayers, which he said "can be completed in ten minutes."

This form is for persons with income of less than $3,000, of which not more than $1,500 is investment income, the minister said in a speech prepared for delivery to the Association of General Accountants.

By means of a table, it shows the tax payable on all incomes, within ranges of $10, from $660 to $3,000, and provides for up to eight dependents.

Col. Gibson said: "The taxpayer inserts his name, states the number of his dependents and his income, and then picks the correct tax from the table printed on the form. No calculation is required and the compiling of the return can be completed in ten minutes."

WILL SAVE MANY HOURS

He said it had been estimated the form would bring about a saving for 1,600,000 taxpayers of approximately 800,000 man hours.

Col. Gibson said approximately 80 per cent of the individual taxpayers have incomes of less than $3,000.

Outlining major provisions of the 1943 budget, he said a change had been made to avoid the anomaly caused, in some cases, by the provision that the tax shall not reduce any income below the amount of the exemption—$660 or $1,200 respectively for single or married persons.

"Under the new provisions, taxation in these cases will be reduced, so that one-third of any such increased earnings remain in the hands of the taxpayer, one-third is applied on compulsory savings and the remaining one-third only is taken as tax."

R. Macnicol Describes Growth of Legion

Members of the Malahat Branch of the Canadian Legion and its W.A. heard an interesting and enlightening talk on Tuesday evening in the S.L.A.A. Hall, when Robert Macnicol, executive secretary of the British Columbia Command, visited the branch. The speaker was introduced by J. A. Whan, president of the local organization. Mr. Macnicol has spent eighteen months in England as executive manager of the Canadian Legion War Services.

Going back to the organizing of the Canadian Legion in 1925, and following its growth to 1,200 branches and 438 Women's Auxiliaries, Mr. Macnicol told of the struggle for recognition and proper legislation for the care of ex-servicemen with the Dominion Government. The W.A., he said, is now entitled to enroll dependents of servicemen as members, thus forming a link between the Legion and the men in service. The Legion today has fourteen canteen wagons in service, and of the twenty-four lined up waiting the return of the men from the Dieppe raid, eight were Legion wagons.

During his stay in England, Mr. Macnicol had the opportunity to visit West Ham, and while there the Lady Mayor expressed sincere thanks to the Canadian women for the bundles to Britain, which she said "were a Godsend."

The Legion now had $2,000 on hand to purchase another mobile canteen to serve all branches of the forces, he said.

What Today Means

ARIES

If April 16 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date will be from 9:45 to 11:45 a.m., from 1:45 to 3:45 p.m. and from 7:45 to 9:45 p.m. The danger periods will be from 7:45 to 9:45 a.m., from 5:45 to 7:45 p.m. and from 9:45 to 11:45 p.m.

It will be a fatal mistake to go on the theory that "time was made for slaves not freemen," for unless you have proper regard for it on April 16, and regulate your activities by its swift passage, you may find yourself helplessly bogged down. One of the most disruptive agencies to successful accomplishment will be the average person's tendency to waste valuable time bandying words or engaging in inexcusable idle gossip. You must face responsibilities on this date or suffer from the unpleasant consequences that those who shirk them seem destined to suffer. Married and engaged couples, and those who have matrimonial plans in the making, will do well to try to analyze their faults and endeavor to suppress them.

If you are a woman and April 16 is your birthday, under present conditions you should avoid making any hard-and-fast rules to regulate your own or other people's activities. Only by being open to conviction can you arrive at just and fair conclusions, and, in this connection, bear constantly in mind that there always are two sides to every story. Ability to think fast and to make quick decisions may have an important bearing on your future advancement, so it might be well to cultivate the habit of doing both. As a dietitian, trained nurse, business operator, actress, singer, writer, instructress, interior decorator or in defence work, you may find yourself working hand in glove with Lady Luck and Good Fortune. If you listen to the promptings of love your matrimonial affairs will prosper.

The child born on April 16 needs plenty of fresh air and activity if he is to keep in good physical condition. Sensible, well-balanced diets are most essential for this youngster's future welfare. A persuasive child often enables the Aries child to wheedle his parents into letting him do the things he wants to do, which often are not best things for him. Initiative and hard work on the part of this youngster eventually will reward him with success.

If you are a man and April 16 is your natal day, old-fashioned ideas may make you inclined to believe in strict discipline and, at times, they may cause you to become rather a martinet, so try to overcome them. As an army or naval man, artist, musician, theatrical man, singer, author, journalist, interior decorator, explorer, agriculturist, scientist, doctor or jurist, your accomplishments are apt to exceed your expectations.

OTTAWA, April 15 (CP).—In its 293rd overseas casualty list of the war, containing nine names, the Canadian (Active) Army tonight reported two men unofficially prisoners of war. Defence Headquarters said they fought at Hongkong, which fell to the Japanese in December, 1941.

Berlin Reports Canadians Used In North Africa

LONDON, April 15 (CP). — Capt. Ludwig Serrious, German military commentator, said yesterday in a broadcast over the Berlin radio that the "British are using Canadians and Highlanders" in the fighting at Oued Zargha, in the Medjez El Bab region of Tunisia.

Previous German references to Canadians in Tunisia have been termed by National Defence headquarters at Ottawa as "fishing expeditions" by the Germans to gain knowledge of Canadian military dispositions and strength.

A small detachment from the Canadian army in Britain reached North Africa in January and saw action against the Axis forces while attached to various Allied units.

The purpose was to give the Canadians, officers and non-commissioned officers, actual front-line experience.

It's no secret weapon, but the hoe is the garden general's big gun in his battle against weeds.

Sick, Wounded Prisoners to Be Exchanged

LONDON, April 15 (CP).—British authorities announced yesterday an exchange of sick and wounded British and Italian prisoners of war as well as medical troops, chaplains and other non-combatants will begin about Saturday at Lisbon and Smyrna.

The Foreign Office said 700 British and Dominion sick and wounded and 940 "protected" non-combatant troops will be involved, and 2,555 Italian sick and wounded and 4,210 "protected personnel."

A spokesman said that owing to lack of details it was not known whether any Canadians are involved.

The operation is being carried out with the co-operation of the Portuguese and Turkish Governments.

In the first Anglo-Axis exchange of prisoners at Mersin, Turkey, March 25, some 862 able-bodied Britons, mostly seamen, were exchanged for approximately a like number of Germans and Italians.

Judge Camera Club Print Contest Entries

At a regular meeting of the British Columbia Civil Service Camera Club on Wednesday evening, Leonard Holmes, well-known local portraitist, judged the entries in the annual print contest. He chose G. J. Alexander's "Gods of Their Fathers" as the print of the year.

In the monthly print contest under the subject of "Pets," first place went to Dr. J. S. Cull for a beautifully toned print of a Pekingese entitled "Mansutta." Second place went to Mr. L. Clark's print entitled "Twinkle Toes" and third place was taken by Clarence Ferris with "Black Magic."

The print subject for the May competition will be "Metal," it was announced.

Hungary Turns Down Requests Of Axis Powers

STOCKHOLM, April 15 (AP). — Hungary has refused Axis requests for troops to help defend the Balkans and at the same time is withdrawing soldiers from Russia, usually reliable sources said here.

According to these quarters, Mussolini asked Premier Nicholas Kallay, of Hungary, for troops during the latter's recent Rome visit. But Kallay was reported to have clung to the official line announced weeks ago that no Hungarian forces would be sent across the southern borders.

These same sources said Hungary's Second Army is being withdrawn from Russia as well as the remnants of the First Army, an estimated 40,000 men.

The First Army, stationed on the Russian front line, was reported shattered during the Soviet Winter offensive. The Second Army was held in reserve and served as occupation troops. The two armies are estimated to total 200,000 men.

The Hungarians have been obdurate in their recent dealings with the Germans, the sources said.

RULING ON CASKETS

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP). — Senator Raymond Willis (Republican, Indiana) has protested to the Senate that the New Deal planning now is effective "even after death." He said some Indiana undertakers are complaining about a war production order which limits the length of caskets to six feet three inches.

NO. 107—EIGHTY-FIFTH YEAR VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, FRIDAY, APRIL 16, 1943

Glancing Over Sport—

By JOE DELAHUNTY

THE DAY'S WASHING

I see where certain people are objecting to the construction of a dressing room at the Heywood Avenue football pitch. They can't be soccer-minded or otherwise they wouldn't lodge a complaint with the City Council. A comfortable room is needed at that ground for the players, for, after all, it's no picnic stripping for a match in a heavy downpour or with a cold wind sweeping over the field. It would be much better for everyone concerned to have the teams in a dressing room instead of changing in the bushes, parked cars or on the side of the road . . . Tom McKeachie is such a keen cage fan that he took the plane over to Vancouver yesterday morning and returned in the afternoon to see the Victoria Flyers go through a training session. He says the boys are all in good shape and feel confident of turning back the visitors thereby reaching the Dominion final . . . New Westminster and Vancouver hockey fans are going to get a glimpse at the Montreal Canadiens in action before they head for the East. The Navy will provide the opposition. Several Victorians are already talking about making the Mainland trip to take in the game. How about bringing the Montrealers and the Bentley brothers here for a game or two, Mr. Olsen? The city is more hockey-conscious than ever at the present time, and I am sure that every nook and corner of the Willows rink would be taken up if arrangements could be completed . . . According to reports, the average attendance at the games in Los Angeles, in which the Navy faced San Diego Skyhawks, was around 3,000.

FROM HERE AND THERE

Remember when The late Frank Gotch won the world's heavyweight wrestling championship by pinning Tom Jenkins without working up a sweat? That was thirty-eight years ago. In 1906 he lost the crown to Freddie Beall, when he was tossed against a ring post and knocked unconscious, but in a return match Gotch easily defeated Beall. Frank reigned as king of kings in the mat game until 1913 when, after defeating Lurich, the giant Russian, he announced: "Through all my years as champion, I have wrestled every man who had ambitions to become titleholder and I have defeated every foeman. I have given as many chances to all of them as they wanted. There seems no one left for me to wrestle so, after fourteen years on the mat, I am retiring to my farm." . . . If Edmonton wants to get the jump on Victoria in tonight's opening Western Canada hoop game they will have to assign two men to trail Norm Baker around the V.A.C. court. On paper the teams appear evenly matched and the series is expected to be one of the hardest fought in years. The Prairie squad will keep a close watch on Baker, and if the local flyers are wise they will train their sights on a fellow named Jimmy Bardsley, who knows every square inch of the floor and is no novice when it comes to firing that leather home. Bardsley, in my opinion, is one of the finest and brainiest ball players ever developed in the Dominion. Yours truly swings along with Victoria by three baskets, so don't say I didn't tell you so . . . Speaking to my Winter hockey "stooge," Bill Collins, yesterday and I quote: "Victoria is going to beat the Commandos in the final. They will take the first one at Winnipeg and then capture the title on Calgary ice. Those big-name players Ottawa has won't scare the local boys the least bit," said the jovial Irishman as he scooted out of the office for the club for a few glasses of suds before heading for home.

ODDS AND ENDS

Two of the most disappointed athletes in the west today are Busher Jackson and Bill Carse. The mumps have laid the "Bush" low and he will miss the coast journey with the Edmonton cage squad and Bill is in the hospital in Winnipeg following injuries he received during the Bombers' series. Both boys will most likely be listening to the broadcast of the games, but still there is a possibility that Carse may be well enough to help Manager Bud Ray direct the plays from the bench against the Ottawa Commandos. This sports department wishes both speedy recoveries . . . One Winnipeg scribe had this to say about the Army hockey team after they attended to the burial services of the Manitoba champions: "Victoria's hockey squad was by far the smartest and fastest team to perform at the Winnipeg rink this season." He was one of the few members of the Fourth Estate who admitted that the British Columbians were the better club when the argument was all over . . . One ardent hockey fan told me yesterday that he has bet $20 on the Army to win the first game of the final series. "If they don't win that first game in Winnipeg the Commandos will take them three straight," he stated as we discussed the two clubs in general . . . Even with the three Bentleys acting as their first-string forward line the Navy icemen were no match for the Canadiens in the second tussle down in California. It just goes to show you the difference between a fair amateur team and the National League. But who cares anyways, the sailors are having a good time in Los Angeles and the Montrealers are enjoying a well deserved holiday after their strenuous uphill struggle to gain a spot in the N.H.L. play-offs.

Powerful Commandos Ready for Opener Against Victoria Hockey Team

SOME idea of the opposition Victoria Army will be up against in the Allan Cup finals for the Canadian senior amateur hockey championship, which opens next Monday night in Winnipeg, is contained in this picture of the powerful Ottawa Commandos, winners of the Eastern honors and favorites to capture the historic trophy from the British Columbia titleholders. This picture was taken right after the Commandos took the measure of Ottawa Flyers, their last hurdle in the East. Here they are, front row, left to right: "Sugar" Jim Henry, Joe Cooper, Kenny Reardon, Second Lieut. J. P. McCaffrey, manager; Alex Smith (coach), Neil Colville, Kenny Kilrea, Louis St. Denis; middle row, left to right, Jack McGill, Mac Colville, Walt Murray, Syd Fenn, Lieut. Gordon Bruce, Eddie Slowinski, "Bingo" Kampman; back row, left to right, Joe Tremblay (trainer), Alex Shibicky, Lieut. Gordie Poirier, Al Barnes, Jake Brunning, Johnny Inglis, Whitey Shore (assistant trainer).

Three Boxla Teams Are Expected in Senior Division

NAVY, Royal Canadian Air Force and a civilian club will form the senior division of the Greater Victoria Box Lacrosse Association this coming season, officials announced after last night's meeting held in the British Public Schools' Club. The name of the civilian team has not yet been announced. The time for filing entries with Secretary Doug Fletcher has been extended and any club seeking information is asked to communicate with the above official. Junior and juvenile teams are going ahead with plans, and the association states that prospects of a successful season look bright.

"It Will Be Tough," Says Ottawa Coach

Alex Smith Makes Statement as Boys Head for Winnipeg

OTTAWA, April 15 (CP). — Coach Alex Smith, of Ottawa Commandos, Eastern Canada senior hockey titleholders, predicted tonight that with L.-Cpl Kenny Kilrea back in harness his team would be "hard to stop" in the Allan Cup finals.

Before leaving with Commandos for Winnipeg, where they will engage Victoria Army team in the first game of the finals on Monday, Smith said he thought the series would be "a tough one," but was confident his players would give a good account of themselves.

The district depot pipe band sent the team off to Winnipeg with a flourish tonight and the players were cheered by the news that Kilrea would start in the opening game of the series. They will move to Regina for the second match of the best-of-five set April 21 and will play the third game in Calgary April 23.

Col. J. A. De Lalanne, president of the Commando Club, did not leave tonight with the team. He will leave Ottawa Friday night and join the party in Winnipeg Monday. Commandos earned their spot in the finals by defeating Ottawa R.C.A.F. Flyers, last year's Allan Cup holders, 4-1 Wednesday in the fourth game of the best-of-five Eastern Canada finals here, thereby winning three games and drawing one.

Previously, they had eliminated the Toronto and Montreal R.C.A.F. teams.

Commandos will have a three-day lay-off in Winnipeg before meeting the Victoria Army team in the opener. For the finals the team will be at full strength. The ex-New York Ranger forward line of Ptes. Mac and Neil Colville and Spr. Alex Shibicky, whose speed and attacking power laid Ottawa Flyers low, is expected to provide much of the Commandos' scoring punch in the finals.

They play again tonight and don't be a bit surprised if the bluejackets gain the decision.

Fight Is Doubtful

EDMONTON, April 15 (CP).—Frank Heller, secretary of the Western Canada Boxing Federation said tonight that he had heard nothing of cancellation of plans for a Dominion middleweight championship bout between Len Wadsworth, Sudbury's claimant to the crown, and Pte. Al Lust, of Medicine Hat, and now in the army at Calgary. The bout was scheduled for Calgary late this month.

Heller said he had been asked by Promoter E. Farr, of Calgary, to sanction the fight on behalf of the Western Canada Boxing Federation and had done so. As far as he knew the bout was still on.

(Recent reports from Montreal said Wadsworth would not fight at Calgary.)

Jeffries Sixty-Eight

BURBANK, Calif., April 15 (AP). — James J. Jeffries, former world heavyweight champion, reached his sixty-eighth birthday today still retaining an intense interest in boxing—only now he keeps in physical condition by cultivating a victory garden. Barney Oldfield, old-time auto racer, actors Leo Carrillo and Victor McLaglen and others personally extended best wishes.

Sports Snapshots

By CHARLES EDWARDS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, April 15 (CP).—After watching Oshawa Generals trim Montreal Canadiens three straight in the Eastern junior hockey final, Elmer (Montreal Herald) Ferguson termed Generals "a major league team of the not-distant future."

At that, practically all the Oshawa players are on reserve lists of professional teams. . . . Fergie quotes manager Frank Selke, of Toronto Maple Leafs, as saying Leafs offered General $2,000 a few weeks ago to turn centre Albert (Red) Tilson over to the N.H.L. Club but Oshawa, its eyes on the Memorial Cup, refused.

ROUND AND ABOUT

Bob Cosgrove, Montanan who became one of Canada's outstanding football linemen with Calgary Bronks, Toronto Argos and Toronto Balmy Beach, heads for the R.C.A.F. this week . . . Vancouver baseball writers went overboard for Warren Martin, first baseman from Notre Dame College who is playing in the Vancouver senior amateur league. Then they discovered Martin attended the Notre Dame College at Wilcox, Sask., and not the more noted institution of Knute Rockne fame. It was a shock but the writers don't blame Martin who plays a lot of first base.

With Sgt. Dave Castilloux, Montreal's Canadian lightweight and welter champion, now located with the R.C.A.F. here, Andy (Toronto Star) Lytle is word-casting for a war charity bout matching Dave with another topnotcher such as Pte. Johnny Greco, the Canadian Army's new lightweight sensation . . . Castilloux is eager to fight anybody within hailing distance of his own weight, including Greco, Henry Armstrong, Beau Jack, Chalky Wright, Jackie Callura or Len Wadsworth, Sudbury's claimant to the Canadian middleweight crown . . . Montreal reports say Wadsworth will not fight Pte. A. Lust in Calgary this month as planned. Reason—Wadsworth has a new manager, Maurice Foreman, who says the fight will be in Montreal or not at all . . . Seats for the May 8 fight in Montreal, matching Greco with Terry Young of the U.S. Marines, will be $4 tops.

HAS RECORDINGS OF HIS BOUTS

Nino Barichello, Vancouver amateur lightweight, has recordings made of broadcasts of his fights so he can enjoy an encore . . . Theo Dubois, former Winnipeg and North American sculling champion, made his debut as an amateur fighter in Ottawa with a three-round knockout over Tim Martin, a colored boy.

Referees Chosen For Cup Series By Hockey Body

TORONTO, April 15 (CP)—George S. Dudley, of Midland, past president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, today announced appointment of referees for the Allan Cup and Memorial Cup finals.

G. Large, of Toronto, and Dick Davis, of Winnipeg, will handle the Allan Cup series starting at Winnipeg between Ottawa Commandos and Victoria Army. Hap Shouldice, Ottawa, and Mike Morrison, Moose Jaw, will referee the Memorial Cup final in Toronto between Winnipeg Rangers and Oshawa Generals.

Good Entry for Aquatic Event

One of the largest entry lists in recent years has already been filed with Secretary W. T. M. Barrett for the eighteenth annual school swimming gala, which will be staged at the Crystal Garden next Thursday night, commencing at 7:30.

As in previous galas the two feature events will be the 200-yard relays for boys and girls for possession of the Canadian Legion and Pendray Cups.

Up to yesterday 260 entries have been received which is much larger than last year when less than 200 were on hand from the various schools. The list will close tomorrow at noon.

The following schools have swimmers entered to date: Victoria High, Esquimalt High, Oak Bay High, Central Junior High, Beacon Hill, Burnside, Sir James Douglas, Junior Craft School, George Jay, North Ward, Oaklands, Quadra, South Park, Victoria West, Cloverdale, Strawberry Vale, Tolmie, Monterey, Willows, St. Margaret's, Brentwood College, Mount View High and Lampson Street.

Ball Scribe Picks Cincy

Takes Reds to Win Pennant

By WHITNEY MARTIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 15 (AP).—It generally is agreed that anyone in an ump-chay who would try to predict the outcome of the Major League pennant races this year, so we'll stay right in character and express a firm opinion in no uncertain words. Or maybe it should be express an uncertain opinion in no firm words.

Besides, we have a reputation to uphold and don't want to disappoint our loyalists who wait patiently for our pennant choice so they can scurry right out and put their two-bits on some other team.

This is particularly true in reference to our National League selections, which invariably are so accurate the teams refuse to abide by them just for spite. They'll show that smart-aleck he doesn't know what he's talking about, by gum.

Anyway, here is the way we see the National League.

1, Cincinnati; 2, Brooklyn; 3, St. Louis; 4, New York; 5, Chicago; 6, Pittsburgh; 7, Boston; 8, Philadelphia.

Now the choice of Cincinnati to win is no accident. You might say it was habit, as we've been picking the Reds so long that sooner or later we'll hit them right unless the law of averages has been repealed.

Not that we've plugged the team and found it ripe this year. None of the teams is ripe this year, although one of them, the Dodgers, might be called over-ripe.

It's just that Cincinnati has suffered fewer real losses due to the war than any other club. Mike McCormick, facing possible induction, may be the only regular lost, and the Reds were good enough to finish fourth last year.

Sure, they have less hitting power than a Bee-Beg gun, but some of the other teams aren't going to be hitting much this year, and the Reds have some classy pitchers, and, with the addition of Eddie Miller at short, will have a stout defence. They won a couple of pennants with no more.

We'll place the Dodgers ahead of the Cardinals for second place because the nine-old-men of Brooklyn figure to stay with the team, and even if some of them have slowed to a jog they still can hit that ball. The club won't be the 1942 club, which won 104 games, as it lost two fine players in Pete Reiser and Pee-Wee Reese, but it's still quite a club.

Western Canadian Cage Final Will Commence Tonight

Victoria and Edmonton R.C.A.F. Teams Geared for Action at V.A.C. Gym

VANCOUVER, April 15 (CP).—What shapes up as the strongest challenge from the Prairies since the days of the Winnipeg Toilers in the early 30's is the threat from Edmonton R.C.A.F. Red Devils, who meet Victoria R.C.A.F. here tomorrow night in the first game of the best-of-five Western senior men's basketball finals.

Observers here are looking forward to the best Western finals in years. British Columbia teams have dominated men's basketball in Canada for years and Prairie champions seldom provided more than a good workout. However, Edmonton's airmen with a sprinkling of top-notch Coast stars appear to be strong enough to give Victoria a hard tussle.

Jim Bardsley is expected to bear the big load for Edmonton. It will be a tough blow for the Albertans though if Busher Jackson is unable to play.

The Victoria team features the high-scoring centre, Norm Baker. Flanking Baker on the forward line are Irwin Stout, who is having his best season to date, and Ralph (Pop) Pay. For guards Victoria has Ollie Goldsmith, reported to be back in form after being ill for the British Columbia finals, and close-checking Bob Phelan.

Others on the Victoria squad are Bert Lands, Art McKim, Ian McKeachie and Ralph Baker.

Hoop fans here "guessing" about the outcome figure scoring ability of the two R.C.A.F. outfits should be about even, but that steadier defence work of the Coast champions will lift them into the Dominion finals.

The Albertans are bringing Ed Tomick, of Edmonton, to officiate and he will be in charge for the first game. Names of chief officials for the second game on Saturday and the third on Monday will be named later.

OTTAWA, April 15 (CP)—Morrisburg Sailors, Ottawa and district senior basketball champions, defeated the Royal Canadian Navy team from Halifax, 41-34, here tonight in the first game of a best-of-three Eastern Canada semi-final series.

The triumph left Leo McCaffrey's tars just one victory away from an engagement with Windsor Patricks in the Eastern Canada final.

Ice Finals At Toronto

Oshawa Generals Facing Winnipeg

TORONTO, April 15 (CP).—Oshawa Generals and Winnipeg Rangers will get their first look at each other preparatory to their Memorial Cup series starting Saturday night when they practice tomorrow at Maple Leaf Gardens.

Charlie Conacher's Generals will practice from 2 until 3 o'clock, and the Western champions—who arrive tomorrow morning—will follow on right after them. It's not likely that either club will engage in anything more than skating exercises carefully avoiding heavy scrimmages that might bring about injuries.

Floyd Curry, fast-skating winger of Generals and the only player who was considered a doubtful starter in the series, is now thought to be fit enought to get into uniform. Conacher will decide definitely when the youngster tests his injured knee in practice.

Curry was injured scoring Oshawa's first goal in the final game of the Eastern Canada title series with Montreal Canadiens.

Coach Conacher said last night that his team would probably catch a glimpse of the Winnipeggers as they leave the Gardens, but doubted his men would be able to learn anything of the enemy's style. "We don't need to scout them, anyway. They'll have to be pretty good to catch up to my kids, I think," Conacher added.

The Generals' coach hasn't decided whether Harvey Bennett or Johnny Marois will tend goal for his team in the series opener. He's made a practice of alternating the pair. It's Marois' turn to play Saturday night.

Angels Are Formidable

Looks Like Team In Coast League

LOS ANGELES, April 15 (AP).—They lost the pennant last year to Sacramento by one game but the Los Angeles Angels, on paper at least, look like the class of the Pacific Coast League for 1943.

"We need another pitcher and another outfielder," says Casey, hard-bitten Clarence (Pants) Rowland, Los Angeles president. "Otherwise, I think we're well fixed for a winning season."

The Angels will open without Ray Prim, who is hurling for Chicago; Jess Flores, pitching for the Athletics; Eddie Mayo, third basing for the A's; First Baseman Eddie Waitkus, in the Army, and Harry (Peanuts) Lowrey, outfielder called by the Cubs.

Pitching staff may not be as good as it was last year but that condition exists around the circuit. Manager Bill Sweeney has four proven winners in Southpaw Ken Raffensberger and Paul Gehrman, Red Lynn and Pete Mallory. Augmenting these are Don Osborne, who won twenty-one for Vancouver last year, and Jodie Phipps and Oren Baker, consistent winners in class "B" ball.

Billy Holm, a fine receiver and weak hitter, and Rookie Harry Land will handle the catching.

Bob Latshaw, who hit .298 with Toronto last year, will be at first, and if he doesn't come up to expectations the youngster, "Wimpy" Quinn, with Madison, Wis., last season, will take the job.

STRONG INFIELD IS ALL SET

All in all, the Angels' infield is pretty solid, with veterans Roy Hughes at second, Bill Schuster at short and Charley English at third. Elmer Mallory will act as utility.

Johnny Moore, perennial fence buster, heads the outfielders, and Andy Pafko, a rookie by way of Macon and Milwaukee, seems to be the discovery of the year. He hits those screaming line drives with beautifully-timed wrist snap much in the fashion of Joe DiMaggio. Currently he's leading the Angel hitters with a fat average above .600.

If Lowery comes back from the Cubs, and he may, he'll be in centre, Pafko in right and Moore in left, with John Ostroski from Macon, in reserve.

Glenn (Dip) Russell, who was to have played first, probably will stay on his farm and although the Angels could use his hitting they seem to be pretty well fixed everywhere, offensively and defensively.

They're a family team, too, with nobody in I-A.

INFIELDER BREAKS BONE

NEW YORK, April 15 (CP).—Walter Chipple, first baseman of Montreal Royals, broke a bone in his right leg today while sliding into second base in the fourth inning of an exhibition games with Brooklyn Dodgers.

$25,000 Race to Be Staged Tomorrow

Slide Rule Impressive in Workout; Pimlico Track Will Open Today

NEW YORK, April 15 (CP). — Georgie Woolf, of Cardston, Alta., will ride W. L. Brann's Vincentive instead of Allen T. Simmons' Blue Swords in the Wood Memorial, $25,000 feature at Jamaica race track on Saturday, it was learned tonight.

The reason for the change is that there has been a long-standing agreement between the jockey and Owner Brann, dating back to the days when Woolf was winning many races on Challedon, that he would be available whenever Brann wanted him. Owner Simmons has engaged T. Atkinson to ride Blue Swords.

Other riders booked for the Wood include Wayne Wright on Modest Lad, Conn McCreary on Slide Rule, Jimmy Stout on Bossuet and Tommy Malley on Tip-Toe. Bobby Robertson will handle the Greentree Stable's color bearer, which probably will be Four Freedoms.

Owner Mickey Slifkin decided not to start his colt Towser in the Wood Memorial. He said he saw no percentage in Towser chasing real runners such as Count Fleet.

Slide Rule today did the most important workout for the Wood, a mile in 1:45 1-5 on the main track at Belmont. Count Fleet just galloped once around the training track at an easy pace.

PIMLICO TO OPEN SEASON

BALTIMORE, April 15 (CP). — Maryland's rationed racing season, reduced to twenty days this Spring because wartime restrictions made it impossible for more than one track to operate, will start tomorrow at the Maryland Jockey Club's Pimlico track.

Pimlico will donate the proceeds of a special five-day meeting to the National War Fund as racing's first major contribution this year to the goal of $2,000,000 for war relief causes.

Although aided by a State Office of Price Administration ruling holding that any autos may be driven to the track if only gasoline obtained on an "A" ration card is used, the track will depend primarily upon street car service.

The Pimlico layout is within the city limits and is served by four street car lines.

To enable the city transit company to transport patrons away from the grounds before the usual late afternoon rush, Pimlico has advanced its first post time to 12 o'clock noon, with the last race daily scheduled to go to the post at 3:30 p.m.

There will be no stake races during the five-day war relief meeting.

Pimlico's barns are virtually filled to their 1,200-horse capacity, and several hundred additional racers are quartered at nearby Laurel Park.

Pimlico's fifteen-day regular meet will start next Thursday, following the war relief racing. That meeting will be climaxed by the running of the historic Preakness Stakes on May 8.

Shipyard Eleven in 8-2 Victory

V.M.D. Trounces All-Star Squad

Turning in a brilliant display of teamwork in the final forty-five minutes, Victoria Machinery Depot swept through the all-star football team from the three services last evening at the Athletic Park to the tune of an 8-2 score. The combined eleven held their own in the first half and it was deadlocked at the interval, 2-2, but in the last period the shipbuilders turned on the heat and ran in half-a-dozen goals without a return.

Played in aid of the Solarium, the attendance of 300 made the net proceeds come to $64.75, but this amount was boosted to $89.75 when a supporter of the game handed over a cheque of $25 to President Charlie Lewis at the gate. He was Robert Jackson and resides at 1765 Hollywood Crescent. Mr. Lewis wishes to thank all those who aided the worthy cause, especially the City Council, Victoria Boys' Band and CJVI.

GEORGE PAYNE OPENS SCORE

V.M.D. went on the offensive early in the match, and after ten minutes George Payne fired home the first goal. All-Stars staged several raids after this marker, but they failed to drive through a strong defence. At the twenty-minute mark Alvin Parks increased the margin when he took Payne's pass, but five minutes later Alec Ross received a cross from Potter and made no mistake. For the next ten minutes both teams played some neat football, and just before the half ended, Truscott scored to tie it up with a terrific drive from well outside the penalty area.

For the first fifteen minutes of the last session it was end-to-end play which featured, then V.M.D. took command and dominated to the final whistle. Goals came fast in the last half-hour. They were passing the ball around perfectly and had the flyers running from one side to the other. Noel Morgan was leading the attacks and made some fine openings for his mates on the front line.

Payne got his second goal when he took Morgan's cross, and five minutes after Chuck Restell received from the inside left and made it 4-2 for McColl's clan. Still attacking strongly, Parks slipped the leather to Gordie Bell, whose terrific drive nearly broke the net. In the next offensive, Bell got another one. Dougan passed to Morgan, who ran down the wing, crossed to the goal area and Bell crashed home a first-timer which the goalie had no chance to save. Morgan made the opening for another tally minutes later when he crossed to Parks and another first-time drive caught the net. Final goal of the match came from the penalty spot when Cliff Robbins was called for hands and Parks' shot beat the net-minder quite easily.

RETURNING TO THE TURF

TORONTO, April 15 (CP).—Ten to Ace, the Oakville, Ont., flier that in 1942 won the King's Plate and Prince of Wales Plate and then was grounded by illness, is coming back to the turf wars this Spring.

The son of Stand Pat and Royalite, benefitted by a long rest, has fully recovered from an illness that knocked him off his winning stride last Summer just after his earnings hit the $30,865 mark.

In Winnipeg in 1942 he finished last in the Canadian Derby, after building up a long early lead. After that he failed to earn brackets, except for a sprint he won at Thorncliffe, and retired, temporarily.

NO DELAWARE RACING

WILMINGTON, Del., April 15 (AP).—The board of directors of Delaware Park decided today to forego racing this year at the mile track at nearby Stanton.

A statement by the board said: "Following the failure of Governor Walter Bacon to get train service for Delaware Park the board of directors decided to transfer its application for a race meeting forward to May 30, 1944, when the usual thirty days of racing will be conducted."

Delaware Park is eight miles southwest of Wilmington and can be reached only by train service and automobiles.

Rookies in Background

Little Heard of Young Players

NEW YORK, April 15 (AP).—One result of baseball's shortened Spring training season has been that little has been heard of the rookie marvels the Major League clubs used to unveil in the South.

The best known newcomer, perhaps, is Dick Wakefield, of Detroit Tigers, because two years ago he achieved considerable fame by auctioning his services around the Major Leagues till the Tigers finally signed him for approximately $50,000.

From the University of Michigan he went to Detroit's Piedmont League farm at Winston-Salem in 1941, and last year was promoted to Beaumont in the Texas League, where he proceeded to win the batting championship with a .345 average, making 192 hits, scoring 100 runs and batting in ninety. It followed naturally that he also was named the league's most valuable player.

There is no question that he can hit and he may serve to take off the minds of Detroit fans the fact Hank Greenberg, Charley Gehringer and Barney McCosky have left the Tigers for the armed forces.

There is a question, though, about how well Wakefield can field and also how long he may continue among the Bengals. He is single, but thus far has been deferred because of dependents.

Before the curtain rises, the outstanding National League rookie appears to be infielder Eddie Stanky of Chicago Cubs, who was the batting champion and most valuable player in the American Association last year at Milwaukee.

He also led in runs scored with 124 and in two-base hits with fifty-six.

Unwin Resigns

OTTAWA, April 15 (CP).—Resignation of L. B. Unwin, administrator of consumer rationing, was announced today by Donald Gordon, chairman of the Prices Board. He leaves the board to resume his duties as vice-president and treasurer of Canadian Pacific Railway Company and president of Canadian Pacific Air Lines, Ltd.

Mr. Unwin's services were loaned to the board by the railway company for the purpose of organizing the consumer rationing administration last October. During the past six months the initial organization has been completed under his direction, Mr. Gordon's statement said.

No decision has been made in regard to appointment of a successor.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

THE AMOUNT OF REST NEEDED AFTER A HEAD INJURY

For a number of years I treated all the injured athletic students of a large university. Fortunately, most of the injuries were cuts, bruises, dislocations and occasional fractures, with not infrequent head injuries causing unconsciousness. For many years also I treated all the injured amateur and professional boxers and wrestlers in which head injuries were not uncommon. While most cases of head concussion recovered consciousness in minutes and often seconds, I often wondered if I made them take sufficient rest before resuming athletic activities.

This whole question of how soon after a blow that has caused unconsciousness, the patient should resume his regular occupation, has been studied by Dr. H. Cairns. Some of his findings are recorded in The Proceedings of the Royal Society of Medicine.

"In deciding when a patient should be fit to return to work, it is necessary to bear in mind the severity of his injury, and the best yardstick at present available is the length of time he was unconscious after the injury. The shortest time in which ability to carry out full work may be expected to return is as follows:

If unconscious for five minutes to one hour—four to six weeks.

If unconscious one to twenty-four hours—six to eight weeks.

If unconscious one to seven days—two to four months.

If unconscious over seven days—four to eight months.

If patient was very tired when injured, more time should be given. The type of work must also be considered, as a simple task may be resumed earlier than one which calls for much brain effort.

"Almost every patient who makes a full recovery from concussion suffers at a certain stage of his recovery from headaches. In mild cases, headaches usually occur early and disappear, whereas in more severe headaches appear much later; in fact, patient is well enough to return home though not to work."

Dr. Cairns states that it is a mistake to keep patients in bed too long thinking the bed rest will prevent headaches. Thus, a man whose total unconsciousness was six hours or less can be got up gradually towards the end of a week, yet it may be six weeks before he is fit to return to work.

During this resting period fears or anxieties of the patient should be relieved and he should be helped through the periods of depression that often occur from a head injury.

Night Club Owner Gets Twelve Years For Fire Tragedy

BOSTON, April 15 (CP).—Barnett Welansky, owner of the Cocoanut Grove Night Club, where 490 persons met death in a fire November 28, was sentenced in Superior Court today to serve twelve to fifteen years in State Prison for manslaughter.

Convicted on nineteen counts of manslaughter, Welansky was sentenced to concurrent twelve-to-fifteen years' sentences at "hard labor" on each count.

Judge Joseph L. Hurley, a short time earlier, had denied three defence motions—for a new trial, for a continuance, and for arrest of judgment.

Capt. Chambers In Charge of Special Work

Puts Victoria Unit Through Training

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, April 15 (CP).—"Know your enemy" is a maxim in the Canadian Overseas Army, and large numbers of troops study German methods and tactics these days.

One infantry division held a "German Week" during which thousands of officers and men saw demonstrations of typical German attack and defence staged by a section of Canadians dressed in "German uniforms" and drilled in Nazi methods for the purpose.

In charge of this work was Capt. Alan Chambers, of Saanich, B.C., Liberal member of the Dominion Parliament for Nanaimo, B.C., who is a staff officer at Divisional Headquarters. Capt. Chambers' regiment is The Canadian Scottish from Victoria.

He gave lectures and demonstrations of German drill and words of command. German films were shown, illustrating enemy equipment in action. "Victory in the West," the Nazi battle movie of the Flanders campaign, was screened for the troops.

Capt. Chambers also held a number of other demonstrations attended by more than 1,000 troops at a time in which his "German section" went through a typical Nazi infantry approach march, followed by an attack. Live ammunition was used to give it a battle touch.

Then the layout of an enemy infantry section in defence positions was shown and enemy camouflage methods demonstrated.

The husband after a very tiring day, was enjoying his pipe and reading the evening paper. The wife, who was poring over a crossword, suddenly called out: "Henry, what is a female sheep?"

"Ewe," curtly replied her hubby, and that's how the row started.

Mike Jacobs After Bout

Bidding Against Boston Promoter

NEW YORK, April 15 (AP).—The featherweights have received such a shot in the arm here lately that they now rank with the lightweights as the top money-makers on "Basb boulevard." They haven't had such days since such thumpers as Terry McGovern, Young Corbett and Abe Attel back around 1910.

It has even come to the point where Promoter Mike Jacobs is actually bidding against Boston promoters for the return bout between Wee Willie Pep, who owns half the world championship, and Sal Bartolo, who came close to whipping Willie a week ago. Mike also has been trying to land the match between Pep and Jackie Callura, of Hamilton, Ont., who owns the other half of the crown, although Callura's demands, which Uncle Mike compared to a "cut" of the United States mint, have put that one on the shelf for the time being.

Pep's party with Bartolo last week lured something like $40,000 into the box office, and it was such a snappy shindig that Boston promoters figured it would hit an $80,000 jackpot the second time round. What's more, Wee Willie has lured $65,000 or more into Madison Square Garden three times this season, including $70,860 the night Sammy Angott beat him a month ago to end his winning run of sixty-two in a row.

At the Theatres

Chinese War Front Locale of Drama

From the world's least-known war front, China, comes one of the most exciting movie stories of the year, Paramount's "Night Plane From Chungking." The stars are Robert Preston and Ellen Drew.

"Night Plane From Chungking," opening today at the Dominion Theatre, is a strange tale of romance and adventure with two Americans, an airplane pilot and a Red Cross nurse, as the principal actors. Its locale is that Japanese-threatened China lifeline, the tortuous Assam Road that winds from Chungking to the borders of India, route of thousands of munition-laden trucks moving up to the front lines. It's reminiscent in a way of "Shanghai Express" and "Grand Hotel" in that the action throws together an ill-assorted lot of travelers, first on a bus lumbering along the mud and truck-clogged road, then on an airplane that's shot down in the jungle by Zero fighters, then as prisoners of a brutal Nazi colonel in a Jap-held monastery and, finally, on an airplane, freedom-bound.

CADET THEATRE Fibber McGee and Molly and Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy hit a new high in screen comedy with their "Here We Go Again," which is now showing at the Cadet Theatre and score an instant hit with the audience. As in their previous picture, the quartette of funsters play themselves, this time getting all tangled up over finances and romance during a hectic vacation trip.

CAPITOL THEATRE Robert Taylor, Charles Laughton and Brian Donlevy are the stellar trio to be seen at the Capitol Theatre now in "Stand By for Action," thrilling story of heroism at sea and the exploits of intrepid navy men aboard an old recommissioned destroyer in the Pacific. Walter Brennan heads the featured cast.

RIO THEATRE An African village was constructed for the production "Congo Maisie" on the huge studio lot, authentic in every detail. Another spectacular set was constructed for the medical centre. Hundreds of extras appear as natives. "Congo Maisie," now showing at the Rio Theatre, will thrill you with its drama. Ann Sothern and John Carroll will bring you colorful romance. It's an adventure for the whole family.

Oak Bay and Plaza — The Dead End Kids in "Mug Town."

Rio — "Congo Maisie," starring Ann Sothern and John Carroll.

York — Ginger Rogers and Ray Milland in "The Major and the Minor."

OAK BAY AND PLAZA THEATRES "Mug Town," now showing at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres and starring the Dead End Kids, is, like its successful predecessors, packed with swift movement from start to finish. Opening sequences show the lads in a battle with railway detectives. In the climax, they are fighting the most ruthless criminal ever encountered in their movie careers. Meanwhile there is a hectic romantic interlude in which Billy Halop and Grace McDonald are the principals.

YORK THEATRE Bob Benchley, noted for his humor as a writer, is adding still further laurels to his reputation as a screen comedy actor. The comedian, who has appeared in several films, makes his latest appearance in "The Major and the Minor," the Paramount comedy starring Ginger Rogers and Ray Milland, now at the York Theatre. Benchley plays the part of a wealthy, pleasure-loving fellow.

ATLAS THEATRE James Cagney can now say in all truth that everything possible under the sun has happened to him during filming of "Yankee Doodle Dandy," the picture now at the Atlas Theatre. He had to pole a Venetian gondola, ride in a Chinese rickshaw, eat a sandwich while sitting on the left front paw of the Sphinx, and dance to forty bars of "Give My Regards to Broadway," eight bars more than the chorus. This montage shows Cagney as George M. Cohen and Joan Leslie as Mary, his wife, making a trip around the world.

Collaboration in Western Areas Is Called Cornerstone

NEW YORK, April 15 (AP).—Western hemisphere collaboration was pictured by the Under-Secretary of State, Sumner Welles, today as the "solid cornerstone" for a free post-war world.

In an address for delivery before the Rotary Club, Welles referred indirectly to Prime Minister Churchill's recent speech outlining the concept of regional councils in Europe and Asia after the war, and added:

"We of the Americas have already created a regional understanding . . . There is already a solid cornerstone laid for a future world order in this hemisphere association of twenty-one sovereign and independent countries."

Without mentioning names the under-secretary made clear that Argentina's failure to break relations with the Axis remained the one serious flaw in the structure of hemispheric defence.

Heard the story of the snail and the cherry tree?
There was once a snail who started to climb the trunk of a cherry tree one raw, cold morning in January.
As he inched painfully upward, a smart-aleck beetle stuck his head out of a nearby crack and said: "Hey, stupid, you're wasting your strength. There aren't any cherries up there."
But the snail kept right on going. "There will be when I get there," he said.

Four Different Ways Given To Buy New Victory Bonds

Women cannot get right into the front lines when the offensive opens, but by buying Victory Bonds they will make it possible to keep the men overseas supplied with vitally needed equipment, the National War Finance Committee points out.

Asked if there is more than one way to buy Victory Bonds, the committee says: Yes. This is the way to buy a share in the $1,100,000,000 loan: 1, Give your order to the Victory Loan salesman; 2, send your order by mail to your local Victory Loan headquarters; 3, place your order with any bank in your locality, or any loan or trust company; 4, authorize your employer to start a payroll savings plan for you.

Here's how you pay for your Victory Bonds: 1, In full by cheque with your application; 2, in full either in cash or by cheque when taking delivery of the bonds at bank, trust or loan company; 3, by arranging with a bank to buy bonds on the instalment plan (if the schedule of payments under this plan is not convenient for you, the bank will furnish the money to buy the bonds and make arrangements by which you can repay the loan within a reasonable period of time); 4, by the payroll savings plan, through your employer (your Victory Bonds will be paid for by deductions from your [illegible] and convenient way.

No matter how you pay for your Victory Bonds, they are available for delivery to you as soon as you have paid their full purchase price.

And, remember, it does not do Canada any good to redeem your War Savings Certificates to buy Victory Bonds, or to sell your Victory Bonds to buy War Savings Certificates. Turning in one to buy the other only involves your country in extra expense.

W.A. to Elks Holds Enjoyable Flannel Dance

In aid of the endowment of a cot at the Queen Alexandra Solarium, members of the W.A. to the Elks entertained at a delightful flannel dance last night at the Crystal Garden. Success of the affair was due to the work of Mrs. H. Norris, convener, assisted by Mrs. F. Wright, Mrs. G. Flinn, Mrs. N. McLelland, Mrs. A. Paton, Mrs. B. Fitzsimmons and Mrs. R. Begg.

An enjoyable floor show was presented, including solo tap dances by Velda Wille, and Frankie Rodwell, who gave a Russian dance, while Ilace Roskelley gave a Hungarian dance. There were specialty tap dances by the Five Juniors, and the Swingettes presented a fast rhythm tap dance.

R. Macnicol Delivers Address at Langford

Robert Macnicol, executive secretary, Provincial Command, Canadian Legion, addressed the members of the Prince Edward Branch, No. 91, and the Women's Auxiliary on Wednesday evening in the Langford Hall. Mr. Macnicol described his experiences in England and Scotland, where he was manager of the Legion War Services, meeting in this capacity many Canadian soldiers. The history of the Legion since its formation in 1925 was related, speaker stating there are now 1,200 active branches in Canada. Its interest in reconstruction and rehabilitation following the war as well as its present war efforts were all recounted by the speaker.

Mr. F. J. Day, president of the Prince Edward Branch, presided at the meeting and Mrs. B. Deane-Freeman, president of the W.A., moved the vote of thanks to Mr. Macnicol. A business meeting preceded the address.

Solarium W.A. Needs Women Who Can Sew

Volunteer sewers are urgently needed to assist the Women's Auxiliary to the Solarium, it was stated at the meeting held yesterday afternoon at the office, Pemberton Building. Mrs. E. Neelands, needlework convener, said that 123 garments are cut out, ready for sewing. During the past month the members completed forty-five garments, but articles are cut out much faster than members can make them. Anyone having a little time to spare is asked to call at the Solarium office, where they will find nighties, aprons, pyjamas and boys' shorts ready for sewing at home.

Police Force to Meet

An important meeting of the Saanich Special Police Force will be held at the Royal Oak Women's Institute Hall on Monday at 8 p.m., Captain E. D. W. Levien, Saanich A.R.P. controller, announced yesterday.

Recruits are needed in the Brentwood, Royal Oak, Cordova Bay, Cadboro Bay and Gordon Head divisions, he said. Information can be obtained from the inspector of special police at the Municipal Hall, Royal Oak, or from Staff Sgt. C. D. Hamilton, 388 Davida Street, Victoria.

Mistakes Montgomery For Sergeant—Gives Him Piece of Mind

CAIRO, April 15 (AP).—Sgt. Worden F. Lovell, of Malden, Mass., a United States Army photographer, is the most embarrassed man in Tunisia.

Scurrying along in a jeep to catch up with an advance unit of the Eighth Army in the Gabes area, he asked a group of soldiers in battledress for direction.

Instead of answering, a soldier asked him why he wanted to know.

"I was in a helluva rush and in no mood to carry on a conversation," Lovell related. "I told him so very plainly."

They swapped a few personal remarks and the soldier walked away.

"That fellow must be a sergeant the way he talked to me," Lovell remarked to a British photographer nearby.

"Oh, no," said the Briton, "that's Montgomery."

Father Hubbard Says U.S. Will Use Bases In Siberia for Raids

CHICAGO, April 15 (AP).—Either by force or by consent of the Russian Government, the United States will obtain use of Russia's Siberian air bases to bomb Japan, says Rev. Bernard R. Hubbard, the "glacier priest of Alaska."

Father Hubbard, in an address last night at a meeting of the North Shore Sportsman's Club, gave no indication as to when the Siberian air bases might be acquired, but he declared that the United States is in a position to "get tough" about them.

"I am certain that the United States will get those bases for day in and day out bombing of Japan," he said. "This will happen in one or two ways. Russia will give the bases to us or we'll take them."

Defends Quebec Isolationists

TORONTO, April 15 (CP).—There are more isolationists in Ireland, and even in the United States than in the Province of Quebec, l'Abbe Arthur Maheux, history professor at Laval University in Quebec City, said in an address today.

Speaking at a luncheon of the Empire Club, he said the little group of isolationists is "quite vocal," but contended their only influence was in the plebiscite when the Quebec people voted "no."

He claimed this negative vote was not a vote against the war effort, but rather was directed against politicians. The Quebec people told them "either not to make promises if they weren't going to keep them, or keep the promises they do make."

"The Quebec people," he said, "are eager, as is the rest of Canada, to conquer the enemy and they are ready to fight the enemy even outside Canada."

Johnson and Bernie B. Johnston. The former's address was given as Green Bay, Wis., and the latter's as Eau Claire, Wis.

Gathering at the Empress Hotel for its annual meeting, the Victoria Canadian Club last night elected Rev. George Biddle, rector of St. John's Anglican Church, as its president for the ensuing year. Also chosen by the club were:

Hon. president, Col. the Hon. W. C. Woodward, Lieutenant-Governor; first vice-president, Col. Eric Pepler; second vice-president, J. D. Munro; secretary-treasurer, F. J. Sehl, and an executive committee consisting of the immediate past president, George H. Gowan, F. L. Shaw, A. P. Dawe, F. J. Staghall, F. W. Bartholomew, Waldo Skillings, Kenneth Ferguson and John Cochrane. George McCandless was re-elected auditor.

During the past year the club held fourteen luncheon meetings at which numerous notable guests were present. Total paid-up membership at the end of the year was 243, it was stated in the annual report which also noted the passing of the following members: John Dean, A. D. Drummond, Fred C. Elliott, Capt. W. Everall, R. C. Fair, Newman Mumford, P. E. Nicolle, H. W. B. Stavert, William M. Taylor, Dr. A. J. Thomas, W. C. Todd, J. L. Watson and E. W. Whittington.

Enlistments, transfers to other parts of Canada and resignations due to ill health had slightly reduced the membership during the year, but with due allowance for circumstances and conditions beyond the club's control, the organization was carrying on successfully in many directions, the report indicated.

Among other activities, the club had appointed a committee to deal with postwar problems, and its findings had been submitted to the Postwar Rehabilitation Council, whose chairman, Hon. H. G. T. Perry, Minister of Education, was the Canadian Club's guest speaker last night.

The regional council of the Canadian Clubs in British Columbia, of which George H. Gowan is vice-president, is seeking to assist and develop the smaller clubs throughout the province, it was reported.

Minister Says Oil From North Alberta Proves Satisfactory

EDMONTON, April 15 (CP).—Lands and Mines Minister N. E. Tanner, informed of the Federal Government's intention to develop the oil-bearing sands of Northern Alberta, said today that tests already made by the province's research council have proven very satisfactory.

The council engineers have separated the substance, refined it into fuel oil and gasoline and some of it also has been used as roofing, and reports generally have been favorable, the minister said. It already had proved to be an excellent material for paving.

The minister reiterated the Provincial Government's promise to give whatever assistance and co-operation it could in any development of the northern tar sands.

Seize "Home Brew"

VANCOUVER, April 15 (CP).—Boxes containing 112 bottles of "home brew" found in a parked automobile early today are being held by police, who also confiscated the automobile concerned.

Dry Squad Chief Norman Corbett said the manufacture of home brew was legal only if the brewer had registered his equipment with the excise department. No charge has yet been laid against the owner of the car.

Arrives Overseas

Word has been received here that Sergeant Gordon Ker, only son of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Ker, formerly of Victoria, has arrived for service with the R.C.A.F. in Great Britain.

Sergeant Ker, who spent leave in Victoria last month, was educated at Monterey and Oak Bay High Schools, and recently graduated from a Manitoba bombing and gunnery school as an air gunner.

Enlistments in the Canadian Active Army at the Bay Street Armoury this past week from Victoria and district include: John Ko Beng, 822 Caledonia Avenue; William Charles Eyles, 576 Obed Avenue, and Kenneth J. Davis, 2378 Estevan Avenue.

Say They Quit Because Unable To Tell Truth

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP).—Fifteen recently resigned members of the Office of War Information staff said in a statement today they left "because of our conviction that it is impossible for us . . . to tell the full truth."

Among those signing the statement—immediately denied by O.W.I. [illegible] K. Guinsburg, New York book publisher, and Henry F. Pringle, Pulitzer Prize winning author.

Davis told a press conference yesterday that he believed the resignations were due to a clash of personalities and that he hoped most of those who resigned would reconsider. Among recent disagreements was one over a food situation report.

Woodside Asserts U.S. Scouts Looking Over Iron Deposits

VANCOUVER, April 15 (CP).—Scouts from two big United States corporations visited British Columbia within the past few weeks to look over iron deposits here, Frank E. Woodside, manager of the British Columbia Chamber of Mines, told Vancouver's semi-public steel committee today.

Mr. Woodside urged the committee to "faster action" in its plans to establish a steel industry in British Columbia. After his address a special committee was named to draw up a resolution urging the Dominion and Provincial Governments to ban the export of iron ore and other raw materials used in production of steel.

Gathering Data On B.C. Resources For Joint Project

R. K. Odell, of the Department of Mines and Resources, Ottawa, will be engaged during the next week in gathering together basic information regarding the resources of British Columbia for the purpose of study in connection with the North Pacific Planning Project being [illegible] committees of Canada and the United States, it was announced yesterday by Premier John Hart following a conference with the Dominion official, who arrived here early this week.

Mr. Odell is assisting Dr. Charles Camsell, deputy minister of mines and resources, who has been appointed director of this study by the Canadian committee, which is under the chairmanship of Dr. W. A. MacIntosh.

The fullest co-operation has been assured by Mr. Odell by the Premier. "The basic information is now being gathered, and Mr. Odell will spend the next five or six days conferring with departmental officials prior to proceeding to Portland, there to meet J. C. Rettie, who has been appointed director of the North Pacific Planning Project by the United States committee under the chairmanship of Dr. A. H. Hanson," the Premier said.

After Mr. Odell has completed his studies here and in Portland, he will return to Ottawa to make a report to Dr. Camsell. Recommendations will be made and submitted to the Canadian committee much in the same manner as Mr. Rettie and his staff will submit recommendations to the United States committee. The joint committees of Canada and the United States will then consider the reports and recommendations with a view to bringing in a final report and list of recommendations for consideration of the respective Governments.

"The resources are being studied in respect to their present development and also future development, so that their effect on the war and postwar period may be known. Until such time as this work has been completed it is not expected that any matters of policy will be determined by the respective Governments," Premier Hart stated.

The committees are particularly interested in such matters as forestry, mining, oil, water power and transportation, he said.

Sponge diving was practised by the ancient Grecks.

Jones and his wife were on a fishing expedition. At the end of a trying, fishless day, Jones brought things to a climax by falling into the water.

Just as he crawled out, his wife appeared on the scene.

"Did you fall in?" she inquired in surprise.

"No, no! Just crawled in to see which fish it was that got away from me!"

WE HAVE REACHED A CRUCIAL MOMENT IN THE WAR

On the 26th of this month the Minister of Finance is to launch the greatest war loan in Canadian history. It will take the united goodwill, the full expression of faith and loyalty of the people of Canada to put that loan over.

The raising of eleven hundred million dollars in three weeks is a tremendous financial undertaking for this country. It is, at the same time, an undertaking of the most imperative urgency.

We have reached a crucial moment in the war. Signs mount that presently with the liquidation of the enemy's forces in North Africa, a United Nations' attack will be launched against Hitler's European fortress.

● Pointing the spearhead of that attack will be our Canadian Army.

We must not let that army down. We must see to it that when the subscription books are closed the eleven hundred million dollar loan is subscribed, and over subscribed. Every dollar of the amount is needed, imperatively needed to support this country's war effort.

Standing back of our Finance Minister, meeting his requirements with generous loyalty, is one way in which we tell the world, and tell our men overseas, that we are in the fight, if not with weapons of war in our hands, at least with one weapon all of us on the home front are privileged to wield—the weapon of our bank accounts.

We may not agree with the policy of the Government in all things, nor with all its controls and restrictions. But whether we find them irritating or not, whether they cause resentment, we must never let our loyalty be affected, our sense of duty to our country dimmed.

The Minister of Finance is asking for eleven hundred million dollars to be spent in the service of Canada, in the defence of democracy, in the cleansing of the world from the bloody stain of totalitarianism.

The Brewing Industry of British Columbia is one hundred per cent behind that effort. Our duty is clear.

Buying Victory Bonds to the limit of our ability, we form part of the great army of democracy that is fighting to make the future safe, not merely for ourselves, but for all decent peoples everywhere.

"Dina Cashman"

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

CHAPTER V

"Oh, but we will, we must—I must. Aloud she said nothing, and they finished their dance in silence.

Back at the table she found Tom next to her again, and for a while they murmured, Dina with her elbows on the crumpled checked cloth, her chin in her hands.

She had not known Tom was coming home from the mills for a week; he had taken her by surprise, and although she knew that all his hopes of winning her had gone down in the wreckage of her own happiness, he didn't know it, and, being Dina, she still could not help turning upon him the full battery of the charm against which he was helpless.

"And is your foreman—this Bill Williams—nice, Tom?"

"Well, he's always swell to me." Tom drew her a little diagram of the plant on a card from his pocket.

Here was the river, the sawmill, the veneering plant where they made ply board, old Hudson's house, the general offices, the recreation hall, the rows of bunkhouses.

Oh, how pleasant this security, this dancing and flirting and gossiping would be if time might go back and everything be as it had been only a few months earlier!

How simple, how uncomplicated life was when its only worries were poverty and hard work and the disorder at home and the aching ambition to do things and go places and be somebody! She could manage all those disadvantages, she could solve all those problems so easily now; they would be nothing, nothing; if she might only go back to them!

She, Geraldine Cashman, to be thinking these thoughts, to be obliged to think them! She, who did not drink, who never had allowed any boy to take the usual liberties with her, who hated necking and wooing and all the other forms of licence which some of the girls she despised permitted so easily!

"You're tired," Tom said.

"I must be a little tired," she admitted, wishing her eyes were not so ready to fill with tears. The others were tired and sleepy too; they gathered up wraps, paid their check, stumbled out into the cold, sharp dark. Dina drew the mangy fur of her collar about her throat, tightened her hand inside of Tom's arm.

Tom and Dina picked their way cautiously along the stretch of plank sidewalk, followed the railway ties for a space, veered off to lumps of cement sidewalk that long neglect had buckled and broken into an irregular stony pathway.

"Can I come in?" Tom asked when they reached the Cashman kitchen door.

"And wake Pop?" the girl countered in a whisper.

"I'll be quiet!"

They fumbled their way in; Dina found the switch, and the grimy interior of the kitchen was revealed.

Tom lighted a cigarette, and Dina rapidly reduced the room to something a trifle less chaotic.

"You'd think Myrna or Dooley would clear up," Dina complained. "But I guess Mama and Pop came in and sent them to bed," she decided on second thought, "and Mama—"

"Don't you ever get mad at your family, Dina?" Tom asked, his infatuated eyes never leaving her.

"Mad at them? I'm always boiling at them," Dina answered. "No, I don't blame Mama," she added after a moment. "She's had an awfully hard break. My father's never had regular work. That's why we left Arkansas. Mama's had ten children in twenty years—I had a sister named Grace, you know, next to Art, and then there was little Johnny, who died just after we got here. There was a Dorothy, too, in between Elmer and Donny. Dorothy was drowned."

"Lord, what things mothers have to go through!"

"Don't they?" Her face paled a trifle; a slab of realization brought all the misery and fear back again. She had forgotten for a moment of peace; now peace was gone.

"Are you going to marry, Dina?" Tom asked suddenly, oddly.

"Am I— You mean—am I ever?"

"No." He laughed gruffly, cleared his throat. "I mean are you going to marry me?"

"Oh, Tom, I don't know!" She stretched out her hand and his fingers closed on it eagerly. "Even if everything goes all right—even if I'm worrying myself to death, for nothing," she thought, "I can't marry Tom; I can never marry Tom!"

Tom's devotion, his sympathy, were so precious Dina could not refuse them tonight; she clung to his hand, and the blue eyes that smiled into his were wet with tears.

"Look!" he said. "Why shouldn't we get married? I've been sending Mom $25 a month, but she doesn't need that any more, now that Nellie's going to be married and Frank's got a job. I could send that to your mother.

"We could have one of those little cottages up at the mills," he went on, encouraged by her silence, "and we could fix it up little by little. It only costs $15 a month.

"We can get second-hand furniture, too, and the company'll lend you money for a stove and a refrigerator. They're glad to help. You'd like your own home, wouldn't you, Dina?"

"You know I'd love it," she answered very low and in a hesitant manner.

Condemn Condition of Sooke-Victoria Road

At a recent meeting, the Sooke Farmers' Institute condemned the Public Works Department for allowing the Sooke-Victoria road "to become so dangerous." Three delegates were appointed to call on Hon. H. Anscomb to request immediate action.

"The road is and has been in a disgraceful condition for the past month, and little attempt has been made to repair it," it was stated.

Both the junior and senior victory garden contests sponsored by the institute got [illegible] to a flying start, with twelve school children entered in the junior contest, and fourteen in the senior contest, open to all residents of the district.

Seattle Girl to Carry Pistol to Protect Herself

SEATTLE, April 15 (AP). — Laska Erikson, a Colorado outdoors girl who knows her shootin' irons, got a permit today to carry a pistol. She is one of the few women here who may do so.

At first, Robert O. Jones, a civil deputy in the sheriff's office, protested granting her the privilege. She said she wanted it to protect herself from mashers.

"We can't have thousands of women here carrying pistols around in their purses," he said. "Most women don't know a gun from a bicycle. Somebody's liable to get shot."

But Laska, who graduated from the University of New Mexico and has taught on Indian reservations in Arizona, Colorado and North Dakota, explained she always had carried a pistol in her work. Her father gave her a rifle when she was ten and she has had weapons ever since.

"I work nights now and I just want to protect myself, and I think I can if you'll let me," she said.

Hurt in Fight in Internment Camp

OTTAWA, April 15 (CP). — Eight persons interned in a camp near Fredericton, N.B., required medical treatment after a fight February 6, 1943, the Defence Department said in a return tabled today in the House of Commons for M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader.

"It is considered that the fundamental cause of all the trouble was the intermingling of internees of many nationalities in the camp," the department said.

Following the disturbance, additional guards were assigned to the camp and twenty-four internees were placed in protective custody.

Charges of promoting a disturbance have been laid against ten internees who are under arrest awaiting trial by a military court.

Another group "suspected of being trouble-makers" will be transferred to another camp and of those remaining the German group will be separately housed, the return said.

LONDON, April 15 (CP).—The Berlin radio said today that Max Schmeling, former heavyweight boxing champion, still is receiving treatment for wounds received as a parachute trooper in Crete in 1941. It said he was in Berlin.

RECTAL SORENESS AND PILE TORTURE
QUICKLY RELIEVED

If you are troubled with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not delay treatment and run the risk of letting this condition become chronic. Any itching or soreness or painful passage of stool is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once.

For this purpose get a package of Hem-Roid from Modern Pharmacy or Cunningham Drug Store, or any druggist, and use as directed. This formula, which is used internally, is a small, easy to take tablet, will quickly relieve the itching and soreness and aid in healing the sore, tender spots. Hem-Roid is pleasant to use, is highly recommended, and it seems the height of folly for anyone to risk a painful and chronic pile condition when such a fine remedy may be had at such a small cost.

If you try Hem-Roid and are not entirely pleased with the results, your druggist will gladly return your money. (Adv.)

Viscount Bennett Sells Control of Eddy Company

OTTAWA, April 15 (CP).—Willard Garfield Weston, Canadian-born member of the British House of Commons and largest manufacturer of food in the British Empire, announced today he has taken over Viscount Bennett's controlling interest in E. B. Eddy Co., Ltd., of Hull.

Mr. Weston has been in Ottawa [illegible] assuming control of the company it was not his intention in any way to change its policies and that operations would continue under the present officials.

Gordon Gale is the company president, and W. S. Kidd is general manager. They will remain in their posts.

Mr. Weston did not announce the sum of money involved in transfer of the company's control "inasmuch as Viscount Bennett was a party to the transaction."

Willkie's Book Is Best-Seller

NEW YORK, April 15 (CP).—Wendell L. Willkie took rank this week with the most successful writers on world affairs.

Within a week of its publication, his book "One World" is nothing less than a terrific best-seller. Orders on one day alone this week totaled 48,000, and the total of copies now ordered is 370,000. The book deals with Willkie's visits to the Allied nations.

Lay-Offs Coming

OTTAWA, April 15 (CP).—Munitions Minister Howe said in the House of Commons today that lay-offs of certain workers in war plants will not be uncommon in the future, but that the men will be given work elsewhere.

This condition arose because certain army equipment needs of Canada and her Allies were being filled, and it was obvious there would be lay-offs, he said.

The names of those to be laid off were given to National Selective Service and they will go to other jobs.

Supplies Moving

OTTAWA, April 15 (CP). — Capt. George Black (Progressive Conservative, Yukon) said in the House of Commons today that Brig.-Gen. J. A. O'Connor, United States officer commanding in the Alaska Highway area, had "cleaned up" difficulties in Yukon railway service and that civilian supplies now were moving satisfactorily.

Capt. Black said that on March 23 he had protested the railway situation, with its "congestion of freight and chaos." He now wished the House to know the condition had been rectified.

SERVICE RESUMED

EDMONTON, April 15 (CP).—Canadian Pacific Railway officials said tonight that normal train service on the Edmonton-Lloydminster line was resumed after snow run-off water and rains flooded and damaged trackage at several points between Hairy Hill and Wostok, Alta. Service over the line had been disrupted since Saturday.

SHINGLE MILL FIRE

VANCOUVER, April 15 (CP).—A two-alarm fire today destroyed six dry-kiln sheds of the Capilano Shingle Mill, one of the oldest in British Columbia.

Grain Crops Stocks High

OTTAWA, April 15 (CP).—Stocks of the five principal Canadian grain crops held in all North American positions—including stocks on Canadian farms—totaled 1,389,511,867 bushels at March 31, compared with 735,315,483 bushels a year earlier, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today.

[illegible] accounted for 196,000,000 bushels or 57 per cent of the total, but the stocks of oats and barley, especially the supplies still in farmers' hands, were unusually large, reflecting the record crops produced in 1942," the bureau said.

"It should be noted, however, that seed for the 1943 crops is included in the farm stocks and the acreage objectives for wheat, oats, barley, rye and flax seeds this year call for the planting of approximately 44,000,000 acres to these crops."

The bureau said the estimates of 1942 crops are subject to further revision. Threshing operations involving grain still in the fields when Winter-struck Western Canada "may have an important bearing on these estimates and on the stocks now reported in farmers' hands, both of which include an allowance for unthreshed grain."

Britain Increases Note Circulation

LONDON, April 15 (CP). — Sir Kingsley Wood, Chancellor of the Exchequer, announced in the House of Commons that the Treasury, April 13, had authorized an increase in Britain's fiduciary note issues by £50,000,000 ($220,000,000), making a total of £1,000,000,000 in circulation.

Note circulation for week ended April 14 reached the all-time high of £943,494,000, an increase of £3,983,000.

The decrease of £42,350,000 in Government securities and the increase of almost £46,000,000 in the bank's reserve reflected the authorized increase in note circulation.

A gain of £12,950,000 in public deposits was offset by losses of £13,690,000 in private deposits and more than £4,000,000 in other securities.

The proportion of the bank's reserve to liability this week was 38.3 per cent, compared with 7.2 per cent the same week a year ago.

No Confirmation On Wheat Sales

OTTAWA, April 15 (CP). — Trade Minister MacKinnon said today that discussions on the possible sale of Canadian wheat to the United States have been underway at Washington but "no finality" has been reached.

He said he could give no information on possible amounts involved in any sale, and could not confirm one report that about 50,000,000 bushels of Canadian grain would be involved in the transaction.

Railway transportation required for the movement of grain is a matter of equal concern in Canada and the United States, Mr. MacKinnon said.
